Atlanta Baptist Sunday School Association training school will open Monday, September 25, at the Tabernacle Baptist church and continues through Friday, September 29. Included in the faculty are Drs. W. H.

Faust, Ryland Knight and Prince E. Burroughs.

J. P. McGrath will preside at the meeting of the fifth district chapter of the Georgia Association of Workers for the Blind at their meeting in room 313 Glenn building at 3:30 o'clock today.

R. L. Ramsey, principal of Fulton County High school, will address the College Park "30" Club at the College Park Woman's Club building at 7:30 o'clock Friday night.

Mrs. Stacy E. Hill, president of the Woman's Democratic Club of Fulton County, announced that the September meeting of the club will be eliminated as it falls on election day.

Rev. Percy L. Maner, former pastor of Northwest Baptist church, will preside at a midweek song and prayer service at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Inman Yards Baptist church. All members were requested to attend and the general public was invited.

State of Georgia today will purchase the materials to be used in making the 1934 automobile license tags. W. G. Kettles, assistant state supervisor of purchases, announced Tuesday. The tags will be on a blue background and have yellow letters. The Georgia will be spelled out, instead of abbreviated, as at present. The tags will be made, as usual, at the state prison farm.

A woman who said she was the wife of W. R. Delinski, convicted of the kidnapping of J. K. Ottley, was arrested on a vagrancy charge after she was investigated her claim that she is Delinski's wife. She "crashed" into the Fulton tower Sunday to visit Delinski, who said he had never seen her before. The investigation and her arrest followed. She was booked as Sarah Roberts.

Grant Park Methodist church will present "The Passion Play," portraying Christ, his disciples, King Herod and all ancient characters with 500 Roman soldiers and civilians in motion picture form at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night at the church. The film is said to be near an exact reproduction of the original Oberammergau play. There will be no charge.

Dr. R. C. Gresham, pastor of the First Baptist church of Moultrie, Ga., will speak at the Druid Hills Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock tonight on the subject "Religious Conditions in Europe." Dr. Louise D. Newton is pastor of the church.

Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Georgia Tech, will lead the men's Bible class of the Second-Pence de Leon Baptist church Sunday.

"Constructive Thinking, Poise and Speech," will be the subject of a special lecture which will be given along with a program of readings, stories and lectures by the Atlanta School of Oratory and Expression at 402 Wesley Memorial church building at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

Secretary of Interior Ickes, as administrator of public works, announced Tuesday that the state of Georgia had been allotted $17,000 for construction work by the biological survey of the department of agriculture in connection with animal experiment stations and game refuges. The state also will get $3,350 for construction of special types of boats for patrol work.

Governor Talmadge announced Tuesday that he had accepted a number of speaking engagements. He will speak Sunday six miles west of Monticello at the unveiling of marker over

KEY FORCES FACE TEST OF STRENGTH IN PRIMARY TODAY

Committee to Watch Polls. A secret committee will keep vigil at various polls to check voters in an effort to prevent casting of illegal ballots.

W. M. Keheley Tuesday was announced as head of a committee of thirty-two ward citizens sponsoring the race of Alderman Alvin Richards of that ward to succeed himself. Milton D. Berry is vice chairman and Walter Reeves is secretary.

Mayor Key Tuesday, on the eve of the election, issued a statement concerning the voting in today's primary, in which he recognized "the forces of good, clean, honest and economical government are on trial, and the failure of voters to support tried council members will be the death blow to economy in local government affairs."

"I recognize that this is a battle of economy prices as against governmental expenditures," Key said. "We may as well face the facts. The voters of Atlanta know the various candidates. It is up to the voters to decide what kind of government they want."

Fight on Economy Seen. A labor and city employee combine to defeat incumbents who have imposed salary reductions and slashes in various departments was seen in today's balloting by political observers.

The city administration already has cut $100,000,000 from tax assessments, representing a revenue loss which taxpayers were relieved of paying of $1,500,000 a year. Another $40,000,000 reduction in assessments is promised by the administration for next year, which will be an additional saving to property owners of $600,000. To offset this operating expenses of the municipality have been the grave of Williams Fears, revolutionary war hero, and will make an address Tuesday at Rock Springs chapel, near Lithonia, in DeKalb county. The governor will be on the same program at the latter place with State Treasurer George B. Hamilton and Secretary of State John Wilson. The governor will address a public gathering at Thomaston on October 6.

Loyalty Club of Woodmen's circle, Magnolia Grove lodge No. 84, will meet at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the home of Mrs. Claude W. Scarborough, 482 Seminole avenue. Members are urged to attend.

Three-year-old Marty Few Legs, whose parents live at Whitesburg, Ga., was recuperating at Grady hospital Tuesday night from an operation performed by doctors to remove from the child's right lung a grain of corn that had lodged in the organ. Physicians said that barring complications the child should recover.

Miss Martha Willis was taken to Grady hospital in an unconscious condition Tuesday afternoon, suffering from poison. Her residence address was given as 704 Spring street. Her mother visited her but did not ascribe a reason for her daughter's act.

Residents in the East Lake section who are interested in organizing a community Sunday school are requested to meet in the East Lake school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

reduced more than $1,000,000 a year.

"Unless a council pledged to economy and to the interest of the taxpayer is elected in Wednesday's primary, these economies will be lost immediately and the assessments will be performed increased," Key said. "It is my hope that taxpayers, those who foot the bill, will vote Wednesday. Unless they do, good government in Atlanta will suffer the most severe blow it has encountered in the past several years."

Candidates Tuesday night approached the barrier and awaited the counting tonight with expressions of confidence and general appeals for a heavy vote.

Fair skies will greet voters today, and it was predicted that one of the heaviest voting in an off-year election in many years will be polled.

Councilman John F. Marler, seeking renomination from the seventh ward, greeted his friends at a mass meeting held at his home Tuesday night. Several radio appeals were made.

"I objected to promulgation of the preferential ballot because it was being prepared by employees working in the office of W. Evans Chambers, city survey expert," Barrett said. "It was being made by city employees on city time, and the stationery used was purchased by the purchasing agent from funds drawn from the mayor's contingent account."

The ballot carried the following names, according to Barrett: Richards, thirteenth; Homer Foster, ninth; W. W. Waits, sixth; James E. Jackson, third; Dr. I. H. Etheridge, second.

"I never gave anyone permission to use my name on any ticket nor have I sought any endorsement," Richards said. "I have a record in council and as an alderman. I am seeking renomination on that, and urge voters to scrutinize it before casting their ballots."

To offset the labor-city employee combine, the Atlanta Taxpayers' League, headed by Robert C. Mizell, the citizens' committee, of which Virgil W. Warren, is chairman; the Atlanta League of Women Voters, of which Mrs. Harry Green is chairman; the Voters' Council, of which R. K. Rambo is chairman of the executive board, have tacitly endorsed at least the Key economy regime.

It will be a battle royal today, and prognosticators said it is anybody's fight in many of the contests.

Contested Races. The contested races are as follows: Second Ward—Dr. I. H. Etheridge, John F. Scott. Third Ward—James E. Jackson Jr., J. S. Tiller. Sixth Ward—Robert Carpenter, W. W. Waits. Ninth Ward—Homer C. Foster, I. Gloer. Eleventh Ward—H. E. Etheridge. Thirteenth Ward—Ellis B. Barrett, Alvin L. Richards.

Council. Second Ward—Howard C. McCutcheon. Third Ward—G. Dan Bridges, Charles L. Chelgren. Fourth Ward—Remond. Fifth Ward—William T. Knight, Tom C. Morris. Sixth Ward—W. F. Moore, John M. Owen, Harry York. Seventh Ward—John T. Marler, McWhorter Miller. Eighth Ward—J. Frank Beck, John T. Thompson. Ninth Ward—Howard Eise, Edward W. Smith.

'NRA' Dog Loses Own Pups, Adopts Two of Neighbor's

"Bootsie," a year-and-a-half-old Boston terrier, lays claim to being the original NRA dog of Atlanta. When she lost her own puppies she began "doing her part" by adopting several offsprings of a fox terrier in an adjoining cage at the Edgewood Dog and Cat hospital.

As the result of a fight with another Boston "Bootsie" was forced to undergo an operation, and although her life was saved, she lost her puppies. While she was an inmate of the hospital, a fox terrier had seven puppies—too many for so small a dog to manage properly. The Boston, having no children of her own, adopted two of the litter from her neighbor in the next cage.

Hospital attaches posted a NRA seal over her cage and named the pups—"NRA Consumers"—"Nira" and "Ira."

BATES IDENTIFIED IN URSCHER CASE

They said they would have to change cars. I could hear them fooling with the license plates."

This presumably was the farm near Stratford, Okla., of T. W. Coleman, 72, where Coleman, his wife and others testified Bates and Kelly had spent several days before the kidnapping. They said Bates and Kelly came to the farm with "a kidnaped man," changed automobiles and departed.

"Meanwhile, they had changed my blindfold," Urschel continued. "They took off a big piece of adhesive tape, and made it a much neater job with smaller pieces. They put a Panama hat on me. I wasn't noticeable."

"What did they do when you arrived at your destination?"

"We drove into a garage—they said it was about 2:30 p. m.—and they said we had arrived. I asked now far we had come, and they said about 300 or 350 miles. They kept me in the garage until after dark, then they took me into the house."

"They gave me a sandwich and a cup of hot coffee," Urschel went on. "I couldn't sleep very well in the garage, on the car cushion."

"My ears were stuffed with cotton and I still was blindfolded, but I was not handcuffed."

"After midnight Sunday I was led into a house. They rearranged the furniture and added another bed. I occupied one, but I didn't sleep any that night."

"In the morning, Monday, July 24, I was given breakfast and had to eat it while still blindfolded."

"Somebody read me the headlines from the newspapers and told me that if the officers remained so active they might have to change their plans."

"I was asked to suggest someone, outside of Oklahoma City, to act as an intermediary, and I gave them the name of John G. Catlett, of Tulsa, an oil man, and my good friend."

Earlier in the day pretty, petite Mrs. Jarrett had identified Bates as one of the abductors.

Mrs. Jarrett testified that she and her husband, also an Oklahoma City oil man, and the Urschels were playing a quiet game of contract bridge when "two guests who were not invited" entered, one carrying a machine gun, the other a "different" kind of gun.

"They said, 'Keep your seats and don't move,'" Mrs. Jarrett said.

A few minutes afterward, she testified, her husband and Urschel had been whisked away in an automobile by the two men.

Her husband returned an hour later, after he had been robbed and let out at a lonely spot 15 miles from Oklahoma City, but Urschel was taken and not returned until nine days later after payment of $200,000 ransom.

District Attorney Herbert K. Hyde then handed Mrs. Jarrett a photograph of George (Machine Gun) Kelly, who, with his wife, Kathryn, still is sought in the case.

"That is the man who was with him on the sunporch that night," she responded, nodding toward Bates.

"Mrs. Jarrett, in the past two days you've been back there in the courtroom glaring at this man, isn't that a fact, isn't that a fact," Ben Laska, Bates' attorney, asked on cross-examination.

"I did not, I did not," Mrs. Jarrett answered. "I wasn't here yesterday; I've been here only today."

Laska then sought to protest against the association of his client with Kelly.

"Isn't it a fact, Mrs. Jarrett, that you looked through more than 100 photographs and weren't able to identify any of the men on the porch some weeks ago?" Laska said.

"No, sir, no, sir," the pretty witness answered.

"I saw four photographs only," she came back and met Laska's pointed questioning by swinging her head high in the air as she spoke.

Jarrett corroborated his wife's story of the invasion of the Urschel sunporch near midnight July 22, then told that about $80 was taken from him as the kidnapers searched his wallet for cards to show positively which was Urschel and which captive was the guest in his home.

He caught a ride from passers-by on a country road and returned to report to the family and the authorities.

Youth and age threw verbal bombshells at the defense of Bates as soon as the government began presenting its evidence in the kidnaping trial today.

A boy of 18 walked boldly to within a few feet of Bates and pointed to "that fellow wearing the blue tie" as one of the two men who boasted at noon July 22 that there would "more than likely be a kidnaping in Oklahoma City soon."

The boy, Coleman, was followed to the stand by his aged grandmother, 74-year-old Mrs. Mary Coleman, who, too feeble to walk, was brought to testify in a wheel chair.

Shaking nervously, Mrs. Coleman lifted her arm weakly to point also to Bates as one of two men who were at her farm near Stratford, Okla., and discussed a kidnaping.

She also identified Bates as one of two men who stayed at the Coleman farm early one Sunday morning late in July and who, she was informed by her granddaughter, Kathryn Kelly, had a kidnaped man in their possession.

When asked what she did when told there was a kidnaped man at the farm she responded quickly:

"I told them to get off our place right now or I would get out of the sick bed and scream until the neighbors came and knew what was going on."

She said she dressed as quickly as she could, but that the party who came when she emerged from the house.

CONFESSIONS ADMITTED IN EDWARDSVILLE TRIAL

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Relentlessly pressing toward an avowed objective of the electric chair for six persons charged with kidnaping August Luer, Alton, Ill., banker, the state today succeeded in winning permission to introduce alleged confessions of the defendants.

During the legal skirmish which took place with the jury excluded from the courtroom, Percy M. Fitzgerald, known as the "Dice Box Kid" to his St. Louis associates, related on the stand how he had confessed a part in the abduction.

When the jury finally was recalled in the afternoon, George J. Gross, a department of justice agent, began the story of the kidnaping which the state hopes to unfold through use of statements made by the reputed kidnapers.

Fitzgerald, Gross said, related his part in the seizure of the 77-year-old banker, while he was confined in the county jail at Murphysboro, Ill. The victim was abducted from his own home in Alton the night of July 30 and released five days later without payment of ransom.

Before the legal wrangling over the introduction of statements began late yesterday Gross also had told of Fitzgerald's statement. It implicated Randolph Norvell, a professional bondsman; Irish O'Malley and Gracie Adams, the latter, both of East St. Louis, Ill. O'Malley and Miss Adams are fugitives.

Repeating his testimony today the federal agent eliminated the names of the other reputed kidnapers. This conformed to the ruling of Circuit Judge D. H. Mudge concerning the introduction of the statements. Judge Mudge ruled they could be introduced only as they directly concerned the person who made them.

On trial with Fitzgerald are Randolph Eugene Norvell, Mike Musiala, Christ Nicola Gitcho, Mrs. Lillian Chessen and Charles Chessen, her husband.

OCTOBER 13 DEADLINE FOR P. O. APPLICANTS

Notice was received at the Hapeville postoffice Tuesday that applications for examination as permanent postmaster would not be received after October 13.

Zack Adamson, who was appointed temporary postmaster about three weeks ago, was opposed for the place by citizens who contended that he supported Fredrick Hoover in 1928. In protests filed with Postmaster General Farley, Hapeville democratic leaders said they had not had a voice in the appointment. Adamson succeeded J. H. Cash.

Under civil service rules the three persons receiving the highest grades in the examination are certified to the civil service commission as eligibles for the appointment.

France Inaugurates $60,000,000 Lottery

PARIS, Sept. 19.—(UP)—The French government went into the lottery business today with a certainty of 40 per cent profit without the investment of a single centime. Tickets for the first installment of 200,000,000 francs ($12,000,000) of the total lottery of 4,000,000,000 francs ($260,000,000) were distributed to banks, postoffices, tobacco shops and tax collectors. On Armistice Day, at the Crocadero, 16 new French millionaires will be created.

Under the law, 60 per cent of the lottery receipts must be given back in prize money. There will be one lot of 5,000,000 francs—free from taxation—15 lots of 1,000,000 francs each, 100 lots of 500,000 francs each and thousands of lots of 50,000 and 100,000 francs.

DRIVER HURT IN CRASH HELD ON DRUNK CHARGE

S. D. Halsey, of 114 Montgomery avenue, Decatur, was arrested on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated Tuesday night after a collision on Piedmont road, in which Halsey drove into another car as its driver was turning to proceed in the opposite direction.

Halsey suffered severe lacerations on the chin in the crash and was taken to Georgia Baptist hospital, treated and removed to the Fulton county jail. County Policemen Webb and Patrick, who investigated, did not detain the driver of the second machine and his name was not taken.

Halsey's car was badly damaged in the collision. The accident occurred near the road that runs from Piedmont road to Mooney's lake.

Boys, Tech High Students Protest Long Hours, Leave School Grounds

Smoldering fires of resentment at the long school day which was to have eliminated home work in high schools of Atlanta, but which, they claim, has failed to lighten the after school study load, Tuesday assumed tangible proportions when about 600 students of Boys' and Tech High schools staged a protest demonstration.

Conflicting reports as to how far the opposition to the long day plan progressed were forthcoming. One student said a large group "walked out" of class rooms and study halls at 2:10 o'clock in the afternoon, the time school formerly was dismissed, while W. O. Cheney, principal of Tech High, denied that anyone "walked out," but said that some were tardy in answering the bell which announced the resumption of classes after recess.

High schools now dismiss at 3:10 o'clock in the afternoon in order that students may have an extra hour of supervised study to aid them in preparation of lessons for the following day.

Snake lines were formed, students shouted and whistled and general disorder attended the demonstration, which was marked by the absence of oratorical attempts, according to reports.

Petitions asking the board of education to rescind its order for the long school day were circulated among the two student bodies, it was said.

"We wouldn't mind the additional hour if our home work were done away with," one of the students said Tuesday. "But if we are to continue to have home work, we want to be dismissed earlier."

Blachen Is Stricken, Missing in Capetown

CAPETOWN, Union of South Africa, Sept. 20.—(Wednesday).—(AP)—Lieutenant Berni Balchen, the flyer, who arrived yesterday with Sir Hubert Wilkins suffering from acute appendicitis, has mysteriously disappeared and his present whereabouts is not known.

Balchen left the ship on which he and Sir Hubert arrived at 4 p. m. and took a taxi for a hospital to undergo an operation, but he never reached the hospital.

Newspapermen who boarded the ship early today found Sir Hubert and the captain and crew of the vessel still awake, anxiously awaiting news of Balchen.

Persons aboard the ship said the airman met a doctor at a hotel in town after asking a taxi containing his belongings to wait for him. Having talked to the doctor awhile, Balchen excused himself and left the room. He did not reappear.

Eventually the taxi driver returned to the ship with Balchen's belongings.

HOUSER EXONERATED FOR DAVIS SLAYING

CUSETTA, Ga., Sept. 19.—(AP)—

L. M. Houser, former warden of a Muscogee county convict camp, today was exonerated of any connection with the slaying of T. J. Davis Jr.

The bodies of Davis and Mrs. Thelma Holmes were found in an automobile on a country road the night of April 22. Houser was arrested and has been held without bond in the Stewart county jail at Lumpkin.

In returning a no bill today the grand jury also automatically freed F. M. Carlisle and Mrs. Annie Turner of charges of accessories after the fact.

The grand jury indicted Early Barker and his son, B. C. Barker, on perjury charges in connection with the case. Officers said Barker testified he saw Houser shoot Davis.

Last of Brooks County Pioneers Was Colorful Link With Past Era

QUITMAN, Ga., Sept. 19.—Mrs. Hannah E. Hall, 86, who died several days ago at her home near Morven, was one of the few remaining links between this and the pioneer generation which first settled this section. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Gorton, came here in 1826; her husband, Colonel Enoch Hall, was one of the officers commanding troops in the Seminole wars and was in the engagement of Brushy Creek, where whites repelled the hostile Indians marching upon the white settlement at Morven. Colonel Hall was the son of Sion Hall, the first white settler here and the first representative of Brooks county in the state legislature. Colonel Hall being the second.

In 1924 the Halls, Pikes, Morrisons, Folsoms, Gortons and their descendants celebrated the centennial of their forefathers' first settlement at Morven, which was named after their old home in Scotland. The gathering was held on the site of the first house Hall built, all of which had disappeared except part of the punchoon floor, which had been saved and which served as a dinner table.

Aunt Hannah Hall was present, a revered figure, and told many stories of pioneer days and how the women did while the men were gone to the coast for supplies, of Indians and of frontier life. Until her death she kept her home near Morven very much as

SURVIVAL OF FITTEST LAW DONE, SAYS JUDGE

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Judge A. L. Franklin in his charge to the grand jury here said that a new era had arrived.

"For decades and even centuries," he said, "the rule of living has been the survival of the fittest, every man for himself and every individual was striving to make the most of the opportunity which he found or produced. We are now coming into an era of co-operation, a realization that we must all work for one common cause."

"The NRA has brought this movement to a head and it is a direct challenge to the old order of things."

PAVING OF ROUTE 50 IS SOUGHT BY GROUPComplete Hard Surfacing of Brunswick to Tifton Road Denied.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Persons favoring the paving of Route 50 through Tift, Berrien, Ware and Atkinson counties met at Pearson today in the interest of presenting this matter to the state highway board. Advocates of this paving hope to have the project included in the roads to be benefited from the $10,000,000 federal fund to be expended in Georgia.

This road is now paved from Brunswick to Waycross and a small stretch is also paved west of Waycross. The paving of the rest of the route to Tifton is sought.

This route links Columbus, Albany and other cities of southwest Georgia directly with the Georgia coast.

GOVERNOR WILL SPEAK AT MARKER UNVEILING

MONTICELLO, Ga., Sept. 19.—On next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock Elizabeth Marlowe chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of Monticello, will unveil a marker to William Fears, a Revolutionary soldier. Governor Eugene Talmadge, who is a descendant of William Fears, will make the principal address.

All descendants of this soldier are urged to be present. The public is cordially invited. The unveiling will occur at the Fears' family cemetery, about six miles west of Monticello.

PADDLE BACKWASH BLAMED IN DROWNING

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The city of Augusta is being sued because its "navy" is charged with having scuttled a ship. Heirs of Isaac Hayne from Savannah claim that the backwash from the big paddle wheel of the Altamaha caused his boat to overturn and drown Hayne.

WORLD WHEAT BODY ADJOURNS UNTIL NOV. 2

LONDON, Sept. 19.—(UP)—The world advisory wheat commission adjourned tonight until November 27, after allocating the 50,000,000 bushels export wheat quota allowed the Danubian countries.

Hungary was given 39.1 per cent of this total; Rumania, 23.9 per cent; Yugoslavia, 22.1 per cent, and Bulgaria, 14.9 per cent.

The next meeting of the commission is to be held at the United States embassy. United States Ambassador Robert Bingham is chairman of the commission.

Doctor Suggests Critics Pay Half Of Cost of Treating Charity Sick

Dr. H. H. Lancaster, of Clermont, Ga., letter to The Constitution, takes issue with some of the comment which has been published recently, since a group of doctors in Telfair county announced, in the Telfair Enterprise, that they would no longer extend treatment to patients who were badly in arrears on their bills owing any member of the professional group.

Dr. Lancaster takes particular exception to the statement by a prominent attorney that a doctor in court, on the witness stand, will never testify that another doctor has made a professional error. This statement was attributed to W. S. H. Howard. Dr. Lancaster says, if this is true, it is made possible only because it is always easy, for a few dollars, to get an attorney who will argue to the jury he knows the doctor is right.

Dr. Lancaster points out that doctors probably contribute more, in service and in money, to charity than any other class and suggests that any doctor who will be so unkind as to be pointed out by his critic, if the critic will meet him half way and contribute half of the cost.

GASOLINE RETAILERS PROTEST NRA OIL CODE

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Sept. 19.—Thomasville gasoline dealers have recently sent a message to General Hugh Johnson, protesting against the alleged unfairness of the present system of gasoline distribution as it affects the dealer. Local dealers claim that under the new scale of commissions and discounts they receive less money than under the old system prevailing before they adopted the NRA, and instead of being able to meet the increased costs of operation under the NRA with additional revenues and profits they are actually receiving less income on the same amount of business.

An effort to have the government fix retail petroleum prices as a step toward relieving them of the present alleged unfair condition is being made. They claim the posted prices on gasoline have been increased six cents a gallon in the past few weeks but the dealers' spread has remained the same, and they are also protesting the method of handling commercial contracts at two cents per gallon discount.

NEWLY APPOINTED POSTMASTER DIES

OCILLA, Ga., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Lyle R. Tucker, 64, recently appointed postmaster here, died yesterday after a 10-day illness. He was a brother of Dr. D. Tucker, former speaker of the Georgia house.

Mr. Tucker had served as commissioner of roads and revenues and jury commissioner for Irwin county for a number of years. He also served on the state democratic executive committee.

He is survived by his wife and four children, Misses Beverly and Winifred Tucker and Messrs. Raymond and Kenneth Tucker, of Ocilla, and two children of his first wife, a son, W. Hubert Tucker, of Ocilla, and a daughter, Mrs. Charles F. Taliaferro, of Atlanta.

GAINESVILLE HEARS JEANNETTE RANKIN

GAINESVILLE, Ga., Sept. 19.—Jeannette Rankin, formerly congresswoman from Montana, now of Georgia, delivered an address on "World Peace" this afternoon at the Methodist Episcopal church here. She was introduced by Dr. Roland Lovell, pastor of the First Baptist church.

She said that world peace must come through individual expressions of the people urging world peace, and advised that this be done by special petitions to the president of the United States, the senators and congressmen in each congressional district. She urged that these petitions be sent in before the world economic conference reconvenes on the sixteenth of next month. This conference she believes to be making slow but sure progress, and reports a more optimistic spirit at Geneva than is evidenced in the United States.

MUSCOGEE SCHOOLS ASK $755,000 FUND

COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The Muscogee county school board has applied to the Georgia public works advisory board for approximately $755,000 in federal aid funds to be used in building a new school and making additions to others.

WIDOW GOES ON TRIAL IN MATE'S DEATH TODAY

CHESTERFIELD, S. C., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Selection of a jury to try Mrs. Charles Walker Arant, comes 38-year-old mother of five children, on a charge of murder of her husband, wealthy Chesterfield county farmer, will begin in general sessions court here tomorrow.

Arant, who was 45 years old, was shot to death at his home last June, shortly after he had returned from a trip to Columbia. Three daughters of the couple testified at a coroner's inquest that their mother shot him during a quarrel.

ARKANSAS BANDITS KIDNAP COLLEGE DEAN

ELDORADO, Ark., Sept. 19.—(AP)—A search over three counties was being made today for three men who last night kidnaped W. C. Ware, dean of the Junior College here, after robbing a drug store.

Dean Ware was bound and gagged and pushed from an automobile five miles northwest of here.

Two men entered the drug store and made four persons lie on the floor, slugging one employee who was slow in obeying an order.

50 INTELLECTUALS HELD AS ANTI-NAZI PLOTTERS

ULM, Germany, Sept. 19.—(AP)—About 50 men and women, including a former high state official, his family, several professors, judges and aristocrats, were arrested over the week-end by political police and storm troopers in a lonely castle near Heidenheim-Wuerttemberg.

Police charged they were plotting sabotage against the national socialist (nazi) state under the guise of intellectual pursuits.

Youths Get Long Terms For Holdup of 75 Cents

ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Thomas Sloan, 18, and Wilford Lunsford, 19, were sentenced in Hastings court today to 25-year terms in the penitentiary for a hold-up which netted them 75 cents and resulted in the death of their victim, Eugene Smith, a negro.

Richard T. Moorman, 20, companion of the two, pleaded guilty yesterday and awaits sentence for murder and highway robbery.

Charles Sloan, 19, brother of Thomas, was acquitted by a jury yesterday of participation in the crime.

MACON CITY WORKERS GET PAY PACT IN CASH

MACON, Ga., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Tomorrow's bi-monthly pay roll of the city will be met with approximately $4,000 cash and about $12,000 in scrip. Mayor G. Glen Toole announced tonight. It will be the first time since December that city employees have received actual money on pay days.

Better collections make the part-cash payments possible, the mayor said. He added that the city "soon will be in shape to cash all the scrip" as it is issued to its employees.

JOB FOR THOUSANDS ON PROPOSED CANAL

Atlantic-Gulf Project Analyzed at Recent Meeting in Savannah.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Sept. 19.—(P)—More than 1,000 engineers would be given reemployment immediately and 25,000 men would be at work within 60 or 90 days if the government, through the public works administration, grants the request for funds to build a proposed canal across south Georgia and north Florida to connect the Atlantic ocean and the Gulf of Mexico.

This was stated by members of the canal commission who met in Savannah recently to consider the situation. T. Guy Woolford, of Atlanta, is chairman.

During the meeting of the commission in Savannah, engineers went over with the body the proposed canal. In the discussion these facts were developed:

The St. Marys river to Gulf canal, cutting diagonally across Georgia and Florida would save shipping from the Atlantic to the Gulf, 1,000 miles;

The canal would be 166 miles long, 85 feet deep and would have a bottom of 200 feet;

To accommodate ships and barges the canal would cost $125,000,000 and would require six years to build.

Engineers have said the most feasible eastern terminus would be the St. Marys river. This river is the dividing line between Georgia and Florida, but near Folkston, Ga., the canal would cut straight southwest through the center of the Okefenokee swamp, emerging at a point 40 to 50 miles south of St. Marks.

Here's a Suggestion If Insects Pester You

ALBANY, Ga., Sept. 19.—(P)—If you are bothered by insects when you sit down to read under an electric light, here is a suggestion how to get rid of them:

Place a lighted candle on the front porch of your home, allowing it to burn for a 30 to 40-minute period at dusk, a large majority of the pests will be attracted to the candle and will be burned to death, thereby decreasing the numbers which may find their way into your homes.

If you have a fish pond, suspend a lighted candle above the pool each night. In addition to killing the pests, the light will provide food for the fish, as many insects will fall into the pond after their wings have been signed.

These suggestions came from Dr. W. D. Martin, city health officer, of Albany.

CLAY AUTHORITIES SEEK BROTHER OF SLAIN MAN

ALBANY, Ga., Sept. 19.—(P)—City and county officers here were asked today by Clay county authorities to be on the lookout for Dudley Lee, brother-in-law of W. J. Crawford, who died in a Cuthbert hospital yesterday from gunshot wounds.

Crawford was shot in the back, and the Clay county officers said they were searching for Lee in connection with the shooting.

The officers said Crawford rented land from Lee and argument arose between the two when Crawford attempted to gather some peanuts after Lee had forbidden him to do so until rent was paid.

Funeral services will be held for Crawford at Bluffton, with interment in the family cemetery there. Surviving are his widow and two sons, all of Clay county.

Wilkey Exonerated.
SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 19.—The superior court grand jury has returned a no-bill against Boofor Wilkey, charged with involuntary manslaughter. Wilkey and a friend, Reece Meador, on vacation from Chattanooga, were riding in an auto which some days ago ran off a highway in the county and resulted in fatal injury to Meador. The no-bill exonerates Wilkey, who at a preliminary hearing said in his statement he was not the driver of the car.

Church Officers.
MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Sept. 19.—The Hardwick Christian church, near Milledgeville, named the following officers last week: Elders, Morgan L. Thompson, J. A. Leonard, J. G. Bloodworth and H. E. Ragdale; deacons, Royce Smith, Albert Erwin; J. M. King, B. F. Humphries, H. M. Marchman and J. D. Williams.

"Miss Waycross."
WAYCROSS, Ga., Sept. 19.—(P)—Miss Evelyn Daniel has been selected as "Miss Waycross" which entitles her to a trip to the World Fair and the American Legion convention in Chicago with all expenses paid. She won the popularity contest conducted by the Waycross post of the American Legion.

Assistant Director.
ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 19.—(P)—Miss Agnes Highsmith, of Baxley, has been named assistant director of the voluntary religious association of the University of Georgia. She will assist E. L. Seacrest and the members of the cabinets in planning and promoting various programs. She was formerly assistant to the pastor and young people's director of the Vineville Methodist church at Macon, Ga.

Diplomat Moved.
MADRID, Sept. 19.—(P)—Antonio de La Cruz Marin, 43, subsecretary of state, was named today to the post of consul general at New York. He has served as consul at Norfolk, St. Louis and Chicago.

State Deaths and Funerals

MRS. E. H. RICHARDSON.
CEDARTOWN, Ga., Sept. 19.—Mrs. E. H. Richardson, 64, died Sunday night after following a ten-day illness. She was formerly connected with leading families of the state and was born and reared in Madison. As Miss Virginia Nisbet Jones she attended Wesleyan College at Macon, and married Dr. Richardson, of Cedartown. They lived in Atlanta for several years before moving to Cedartown.

She was a member of the Baptist church. She is survived by two sons, Dr. E. D. Richardson, Atlanta, and Dr. M. S. Richardson, Cedartown; one daughter, Mrs. Florence E. Van Clieve, Cedartown; one brother, Colonel Percy L. Jones, U. S. A., of Erie, Pa.; one sister, Miss Henry M. Hall, Cedartown, and two grandchildren, E. D. Richardson Jr. and Leonard Richardson, of Atlanta.

Funeral services will be held from the residence on Wednesday afternoon with the Rev. Broadus Jones, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating.

MRS. W. S. BRANHAM.
TAMPA, Fla., Sept. 19.—Mrs. W. S. Brannham, died Sunday night at a hospital here. The body was sent today to Oxford, Ga., for funeral services and burial Wednesday. Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. C. B. Pile, of Birmingham, Ala.; three grandchildren, Clinton Jr., Charles W. and Marie Pile; two sisters, Mrs. F. M. Hawkins, of William, Fla., and Mrs. J. S. Linton, of Waycross, Ga., and a brother, C. S. H. Johnson, of Jacksonville.

O. W. PARKER.
EDISON, Ga., Sept. 19.—O. W. Parker died here on Monday. He leaves three sons, J. D. T. A. and O. W. Jr., and two daughters, Mary and Louise. He was a member of the Edison Baptist church. He will be laid to rest in Old Salem burying ground.

LAGRANGE, Ga., Sept. 19.—Funeral services for Mrs. George Willis, 79, whose death occurred Monday night, were held this afternoon at the residence, with Rev. L. M. Twigg, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating. Burial followed in Hill View cemetery.

Mrs. Willis was the former Miss Anna Caroline Davis, and was born and reared in Troup county. Her parents were the late Colonel Fred and Mary Francis Davis, prominent citizens of the county. In 1875 she was married to the late George S. Willis. She was a member of the Big Springs Methodist church.

Surviving are a daughter, Miss Mary Willis; a granddaughter, Miss Kathleen Willis, of Atlanta; the sisters, Mrs. Bartow Trammell, of Langdale, Ala., and Mrs. Traylor Johnson, of Big Springs; two brothers, Charles N. Davis and George W. Davis, of Atlanta, and several nieces and nephews.

Man Recovers Sight After 18 Dark Years

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19.—(P)—Sylvester Flynn, 25, is renewing a "seeing acquaintance" with a world he had known only by touch, taste, hearing and smell for 18 years.

He has his sight back—a sense he lost at the age of seven—and green grass and trees and the faces of people are the things that fascinate him.

An operation a month ago helped Flynn recover his sight.

He plans to resume scholastic studies and continue vocal lessons he began some years ago.

THREE MURDER TRIALS FACE TOOMBS COURT

LYONS, Ga., Sept. 19.—(P)—Three murder trials were on the calendar of the Toombs county superior court as it convened today.

M. L. Jordan was held for trial in connection with the death of Morgan Dunnigan, who was shot and killed last June 3 by one of two men who attempted to rob him. G. T. Sutton was shot and fatally wounded by Dunnigan and Jordan was charged with accompanying Sutton.

Mills B. Powell will be tried on a charge growing out of the death last July 2 of Stencil Williamson, 30, of Vidalia. Powell has advanced self-defense, claiming Williamson tried to rob his filling station.

Sammy Mann will be tried on a charge of killing Reuben Bland, 20, at a filling station 15 miles south of here July 17.

CONGRESSMAN COX AT SCHOOL OPENING

CAMILLA, Ga., Sept. 19.—The Hopeful Consolidated school opened Monday morning with prospects of one of the most successful years in the history of the school. The student body and the visitors were welcomed by Superintendent J. J. Brock. J. F. Harmon spoke for the local board.

Present at the exercises were Congressman E. E. Cox and Charles Martin Cox, "old grads" of Hopeful, who were accorded a cordial welcome.

ELMER DEKLE TO RUN FOR CONGRESS SEAT

Former Legislator To Oppose Dean in Primary Next Summer.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Sept. 19.—(P)—Elmer E. Dekle, local insurance man and former member of the state house of representatives and senate, has authorized the announcement that he will oppose Brawley Dean, of Alma, for congress in the primary next summer.

Dekle said he has pledges of support from each county in this congressional district.

State Senator Andrew J. Tuten recently announced he would oppose Dean, and several other names have been mentioned as possible entries in the congressional race. Tuten also is a resident of Alma.

PEMBROKE JOURNAL ON GEORGIA PAPER

PEMBROKE, Ga., Sept. 19.—The Pembroke Journal has joined the ranks of weekly papers in this state printed on newsprint made from Georgia pine trees. Dr. Charles H. Herty has made the news stock at the Savannah laboratory from pine trees grown in Bryan county.

The tree stock was furnished by D. B. Warrick, of Pembroke, representative in the general assembly from Bryan county. The paper states that its issue of this week will be from the Georgia-made newsprint.

THOMASVILLE JAILS NEW JERSEY COUPLE

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Sept. 19.—James A. Kirkpatrick and Anna Kirkpatrick, alias Anna Gardner, a couple said to be residents of Belleville, N. J., were arrested in Thomasville Saturday at the request of officials at Belleville.

They are said to be wanted in that city and the New Jersey officers are now en route here to take charge of the couple, according to advices from Belleville.

The arrest of the couple followed a wire they had sent to Belleville for money to be sent them here.

$1,300.00 CASH PRIZE AD-WRITING CONTEST

21 PRIZES EACH WEEK

RULES OF CONTEST

Any person except employees of The Constitution and their families, or any person who is or has been employed in the advertising business is eligible to enter this contest.

All ads must be entered at 137 Peachtree Arcade before 5 p. m. Wednesday of each week.

Winners' names and the first three winning ads will be published the following Sunday.

All entries must be submitted on official "Ad-Writing" paper, which may be obtained at any of the stores co-operating in this contest.

All advertisements must be entered on Wednesday of each week.

Prizes will be awarded to those contestants, who, in the opinion of the judges, "submit the best ad."

By "Best" is Meant: Its Power to Attract Attention—Arouse Interest—Create Desire—Cause Action.

Any contestant may submit as many ads as he or she wishes. (Example).

One or more ads for every firm or two or more for any or all firms.

At headquarters there will be an experienced ad-man to consult with contestants and give any information desired. All entries become the property of The Constitution and no entries will be returned.

Be sure your name and address is plainly written on the back of your ad.

SUGGESTIONS.

1. Be sure you have your official paper.
2. Imagine yourself as being the manager of the store for which you are writing.
3. Get information from the stores as to how long in business, lines of goods in stock, price ranges, names of materials, etc.
4. Try and avoid poetry.
5. Do not use superlatives or comparative prices.

PAY CUT RESTORATION APPROVED BY MAYOR

$173,000 To Go Into Trade
Channels During Remainder of This Year.

Mayor James L. Key Tuesday approved restoration of 10 per cent of the salary slashes imposed on 4,300 municipal employees and made available $173,000 additional for Atlanta trade channels for the remainder of the year.

Council Monday passed the measure by unanimous vote. It provides that any employee making $100 or less a month shall not be subject to any cut, and that the higher brackets suffer only a 10 per cent slash from the peak pre-depression salaries.

The mayor suggested the restoration when it was learned that tax assessments for the year exceeded anticipations by about $12,000,000. He told City Comptroller B. Graham West to take steps to restore cuts as a "gesture of good will and as Atlanta's contribution to the NRA."

The mayor took action on many other measures which council passed to him, as he will leave this morning for Chicago to attend the national meeting of mayors to be held there.

The salaries for 2,500 non-school employees are now effective, but action by the Atlanta board of education is a prerequisite to putting it in force among the 1,800 employees of the school department.

THEODORE HUMAN, 82, COMPOSER, SUCCUMBS

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Theodore Human, Russian composer and violinist, died at his Brooklyn home Monday night after a long illness. He was 82 years old.

Mr. Human was widely known as a teacher and taught a number of socially prominent persons, including the late Alfred G. Vanderbilt. He lived at various times in Newport, R. I., New Haven, Conn.; Jacksonville, Fla., and Mobile, Ala.

EDWARD S. CLARK

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Edward Severin Clark, 63, one of the four Clark brothers who inherited the fortune derived from the Singer Sewing Machine Company, died here today. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage yesterday. Funeral ceremonies have been delayed pending word from his relatives.

Mr. Clark was the eldest of four brothers, one of whom is Robert Sterling Clark, of Middleburg, Va.

JOHN E. DEAN

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 19.—(AP)—John E. Dean, 61, former head of the Dean-Lilly Coffee & Spice Company, who retired nine years ago, died at his home here today after a lengthy illness. Survivors include a sister, Mrs. C. A. Carlie, Pueblo, Col.

L. D. HILL

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 19.—(AP)—L. D. Hill, member of the Tennessee railroad and public utilities commission, died in a hospital here today. He was 77 years old. Death was ascribed to a recurrence of a gall bladder disorder which had troubled him within recent years. However, his condition was not considered serious until late last night when he was taken to the hospital.

Mr. Hill, a lawyer, and son of a Confederate captain, was elected to the utilities commission in 1928 and re-elected last fall for another six years' term. His successor, who will serve until the next general election in November, 1934, will be appointed by Governor Hill McAlister.

HENRY CARTAN

SAUSALITO, Cal., Sept. 18.—(AP)—Henry Cartan, 75, retired capitalist, died at his home here today.

"SQUARE DEAL" IS SEEN FOR TOBACCO FARMERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(AP)—G. C. Adams, Georgia commissioner of agriculture, today said he had been assured of a "square deal" in distribution of the proposed tobacco processing tax to Georgia farmers.

Adams conferred with J. B. Hutson, chief of the tobacco section of the farm adjustment administration, and said he had been told Georgia farmers would receive their share of the tax on the basis of leaf already marketed.

Payments to Georgia growers will approximate $2,400,000.

The tobacco division has not yet worked out a definite plan for making the payments.

Adams also called at the milk section of the adjustment administration today and said he expected to present Georgia's signed milk agreement tomorrow.

FLORIDA CITRUS CROP

SET AT 18,600,000 BOXES

TAMPA, Fla., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Florida's forthcoming commercial citrus crop, with storm damage counted, was estimated at 18,600,000 boxes in a survey today by C. W. Lyons, fertilizer manufacturer of Tampa, whose September estimates for the last 10 years have been regarded by growers as close to the total yield.

The new crop was divided by Lyons as follows: Oranges 11,400,000 boxes; grapefruit 6,000,000 boxes; tangerines 1,200,000 boxes.

Although the total is below that of last season, Lyons reported the difference was made up to some extent by increased sizes and that there was every reason to believe Florida should find a firm market with satisfactory prices.

U. S. AID ASKED IN WAR AGAINST SCREW WORM

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(AP)—W. B. Hutchinson, Albany (Ga.) cotton and cattle man, today asked the animal husbandry division of the department of agriculture for aid in combating the screw worm in his state.

He said the worm was causing heavy damage, especially to new-born stock, in his state. Hutchinson was told the federal government already had an agent in the state studying the situation and the government would do all possible to co-operate with the state authorities.

Cured "Sleep" Patients To Be Watched 2 Years

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Recovered "sleeping sickness" patients will remain under the watchful eye of public health officials for about two years to determine whether delayed effects of the illness manifest themselves, it was announced today.

So far, health officials and physicians attending cases of encephalitis, have found virtually no unfavorable after effects, but the two-year period of observation was decided upon in the hope of gaining more substantial knowledge of the strange malady.

With the death toll standing at 187 in Greater St. Louis since mid-July, the epidemic continued today to show definite signs of abatement.

MINISTER EJECTED BODILY BY WOMEN IN PULPIT DISPUTE

JONESBORO, Ark., Sept. 19.—(AP)—A new minister's attempt to occupy the pulpit of the Jonesboro Baptist tabernacle, scene of bitter intra-congregation strife for weeks, ended last night in his flight from an attacking group of women, minus his suspenders and Bible.

The Rev. Doc Applegate, a former deputy constable and ordained minister, mounted the platform at tabernacle services and announced he had been sent to preach in place of the Rev. Dale S. Crowley, one of the rivals for the pastorate.

Immediately, according to reports to officers today, 15 or 20 women members of the Rev. Joe Jeffers flock, in possession of the tabernacle, advanced upon him.

They seized Applegate, tore off his suspenders and part of his shirt and threw him off the platform, officers

Gold Glistens in Mouths Of Two Atlanta "Purps"

Neither Pickles nor Jinks would tell you whether or not they have "pink tooth-brush," but they would answer a question of that nature by grinning and displaying a gold tooth each. And Pickles and Jinks are dogs, Pekinese and "just dog," respectively.

Pickles is the property of Mrs. D. J. MacKillop, of 11 Arvonale road, and Jinks thinks more of Dr. C. C. Von Gremp, of Decatur, than any other living person—meaning he belongs to the veterinarian. Both dogs suffered the misfortune of decayed teeth and the gold crowns were arranged to aid their chewing operations.

reported. He fled from the tabernacle, leaving his suspenders and Bible behind.

The women were reported to have torn the suspenders to bits to keep as souvenirs.

Whether warrants would be issued in connection with the new flare-up in the church was not announced.

SHIP REACHES PORT AFTER LONG FIGHT WITH HURRICANE

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Three and a half days behind schedule, the Mallory passenger liner Henry R. Mallory arrived in Charleston this afternoon, having conquered one of the worst hurricanes to sweep the Atlantic seaboard.

Several of the 52 passengers were bruised and the cargo was damaged by water. The ship, out of New York, sailed tonight for Jacksonville.

For 50 hours the Mallory was in the thick of the storm, beginning at 10 a. m. Friday off Cape Hatteras. Captain E. E. Woods said he headed out to sea in an effort to escape the worst of the blow but failed. Only 20 miles offshore when the storm began, the ship was 300 miles at sea when storage was regained.

The radio antenna went out of order two hours after the storm struck and it was 48 hours before repairs

NRA Critics Assailed By Administration Aid

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Critics of the national recovery program are fighting a losing fight, Malcolm Muir, deputy administrator under General Hugh S. Johnson, declared tonight.

"Ask these men why they think the NRA will fail," Muir said in an address to the American Transit Association, "and they cannot tell you. Inquire what remedy they would substitute for it, and they do not know. Their attitude is solely one of dumb despair."

"There is no place for the faint hearted."

Were possible, Captain Woods said it was the worst storm he had ever seen in 38 years at sea.

"It was the only storm I ever saw that it was impossible to get out of once you were in it," he said. "I was never in one for such a long time before."

Passengers praised conduct of the captain and crew.

DECREASE SHOWN IN CHILDREN GIVEN CARE IN HOMES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(AP)—A 7 per cent decrease in the number of children cared for in institutions and an 11 per cent increase among those in foster homes were reported today by the children's bureau on the basis of a survey in 13 cities for the year ending last June.

The rise in foster home care was not due to homes being opened, free, to dependent and neglected children. Such care declined about 1 per cent.

There was a 12 per cent increase in the number of children cared for in boarding homes, where some social agency pays a housewife to care for public charges.

There was a 36 per cent increase in work or wage homes—in which foster care is given in exchange for work done by children; or care is given and a wage also paid for children's work about the home.

The volume of institutional care of children, which, except for seasonal fluctuations, was said to have remained "relatively unchanged," started its downward trend in the spring of 1932.

Foster home care, on a steady climb, was 30 per cent higher in June, 1933, than the monthly average of 1929.

U. S. SEEKS TO START PHILADELPHIA'S TRUCKS

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Three federal agencies lent a hand today in an effort to start turning again the wheels of Philadelphia's trucking business, paralyzed by a strike.

The department of justice ordered agents to watch for interference with trucks engaged in interstate commerce; the national labor board sent one of its best known mediators, and the agricultural adjustment administration was reported in Washington as arranging to send observers.

Meanwhile, Joseph A. Le Strange, acting superintendent of police, told a conference of strikers and producers that "food trucks must go through."

MAYOR NAMES BOARD FOR NRA PARADE HERE

Mayor James L. Key named Alderman Farris A. Mitchell, chairman; Charles B. Gramling, representing labor; George W. Powell, of the board of education; Councilman Aubrey Millam, representing the business and commercial interests of the city, and Herbert Porter, vice president and general manager of the Atlanta Georgian, as a committee to sponsor the NRA parade here October 4.

Mitchell said the committee will meet at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at the city hall.

NATURE WAS KIND TO THEM!

MILK is man's oldest known food commodity—his first and last food. Milk in its natural state—RAW, OF COURSE—nourished the babies of prehistoric man. Man, during the Stone Age, knowing nothing about fire or cooking, subsisted on natural foods provided by NATURE. His food knew no alteration, cooking—adulteration or so-called "refinements."

Man, during that age, was stronger and lived longer than people do today. Now—man has but one food that comes to him exactly as ancient man received it—that is MILK. The only difference in this natural food today is that it is safer, purer and cleaner, because of scientific breeding, regulated expert feeding and sanitary production. Only these things IMPROVE MILK—all others detract from its quality and food value.

Nature needs no man-made purifying or germ-killing process. To be sure that you and your babies get the best, safest and most natural milk insist—always—on NATURAL GRADE A RAW MILK.

ATLANTA, GA., SEPT. 20, 1933.

AID FROM DEFLATED DOLLAR.

The benefits which have accrued to American exporting and manufacturing concerns by the departure of this country from the gold standard, and the consequent deflation of the dollar in terms of the currencies of other countries, are illustrated by increased exports to China reported in the current issue of Commerce Reports, a publication of the United States department of commerce.

With Great Britain and other European countries off the gold standard, it took, for instance, more Chinese silver dollars to buy a $1,000 American automobile than it did an English car of equal value, but priced in pounds. With the deflation of the dollar the rate of exchange reached more of a parity and the result is shown in the increase in the purchase of American goods, with a decreased buying of the same types of goods from other nations.

American motor cars were practically barred from the orient since Great Britain deserted the gold standard, until the United States took similar action, which automatically brought about a reduction of about 30 per cent in the price of American cars in Chinese local currency.

The result has been that during the first seven months of the year $13 of the total of 4,492 passenger-car importations were American, while of the 4,443 trucks imported, 4,149 were from this country.

Gasoline imports show an increase of 5,000,000 gallons, kerosene jumped from 44,000,000 to 60,000,000 gallons and lubricating oil imports gained 2,000,000 gallons.

From these figures it is not difficult to see why the great European nations were so eager, at the time of the London economic conference, to have the United States agree to go back on the gold standard, or at least to enter negotiations for the stabilization of the dollar. Having for years enjoyed an exchange advantage of from 20 to 30 per cent in the great export markets of the world, their attempts to stem the inroads into international commerce being made by American exporters finally wrecked the conference.

In view of the stimulating effect on American export business of our departure from the gold standard, it is certain that the United States government will not again put its currency on a gold basis without first entering into agreements that will safeguard against a renewal of the situation that practically banned American goods from many of the world's richest markets.

THE PUBLIC WORKS DELAY.

It is not surprising that Secretary Ickes, federal public works administrator, is indignant over the charge that the delay in getting work started over the country is due to "red tape" in Washington.

As a matter of record, the relief administration has moved with unusual speed in acting upon the requests that have been made upon it, and it is noteworthy that there has been an almost entire elimination of the lost motion of former days when applications were shunted from one office to another for investigation and approval.

The trouble has been with the apparent difficulty of communities to make up their mind as to what they wanted—or if they wanted anything at all. Dilly-dallying and indecision has been the rule, rather than the exception, in the effort of state and local governments to decide upon a program of projects for which to ask federal aid.

After a slow start Atlanta went about the preparation of a program in a businesslike manner, but this has not been the case in the majority of the cities of the country. Such requests as have reached Washington, and in which there have been no legal complications, such as those resulting from certain Georgia statutes, have been acted on by the relief administration with amazing swiftness, and it is not fair to the officials and the overworked clerical forces in the national capital that they should be held to blame for something that is not their fault.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASEN

DR. JONES TO PREACH.

The announcement that Dr. M. Ashby Jones, former pastor of the Ponce de Leon Baptist church, will become the guest preacher of the Central Congregational church, will be warmly received by the churchgoers of Atlanta.

A profound student and an orator of rare ability, Dr. Jones holds the respect and esteem of the members of all faiths in Atlanta. He has swelled his Sunday audiences for more than ten years by contributing a comment column, under the heading, "Text and Pretext," to the editorial page of The Sunday Constitution, in which he reviews world developments in their relationship to religious affairs.

A frequent speaker in the past before national religious bodies, this distinguished southern divine is one of America's best-known church leaders. An active Rotarian, he spoke before the International Rotary conference in Edinburgh in 1921.

A gifted and convincing preacher, a citizen every ready to contribute to the welfare of his community, and a man of distinct personal charm, his return to the pulpit will be welcomed in both religious and secular circles.

THE FAIR MOTORCADE.

The novel motorcade which Saturday will visit some 20 or more near-by towns in the interest of the Southeastern Fair should be joined by a generous number of Atlantans.

The new administration of the fair is progressive and energetic and has spared no effort to make this year's exhibition the biggest and best of any that have been held.

With a splendid fair assured, the motorcade has been devised as a spectacular way to advise the people of the territory to be visited that they will deprive themselves of an opportunity for both instruction and amusement if they do not "take in" the Southeastern this fall. The caravan will be headed by sound trucks and novelty floats and gaily decorated cars filled with leading Atlanta citizens will complete the procession.

The more cars there are, the more impressive will be the motorcade, and it is due to the executives of the fair who have diligently striven to build a better exhibition this year that there be a liberal representation in the motorcade of every sphere of Atlanta's civic life.

If large out-of-town crowds attend the fair an impetus will be given to the city's fall business that will be felt by every commercial establishment in Atlanta. Many thousands of dollars will be added to the money in circulation in the city by those who, coming to Atlanta to visit the fair, will take advantage of the opportunity to secure bargains in manufactured goods of every description.

The fair association has splendidly performed the task of arranging for a fine exhibition and it is up to the people of the city to lend every co-operation possible.

News Behind the News

By Paul Mallon.

MORE MEDICINE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The administration economic doctors are mixing up another new stimulating concoction back in the inner laboratory. The basic idea is to use government funds or influence, or both, to promote installment buying.

The doctors frankly are not elated about the prospective benefits of the new medicine. But they may trot it out publicly shortly, if the big doctor in the White House will put his O. K. on it. Their present idea is that it may move goods faster and is worth a trial.

OUTLOOK CHANGED The trouble is that overindulgence in installment buying is one of the main causes of our present headache. People bought more than they could pay for in pre-depression years. Their income was mortgaged beyond its ability to pay. When the incomes were curtailed or stopped, collectors had to take back the goods.

The whole picture is different today. Prospects are that the national income will increase slowly but surely. That may make the idea worth while.

SPOT Every insider recognizes Mr. Roosevelt in his tightest place politically. The public mind has been educated to the expectation of inflation. Most business is now being conducted on that theory. The farm plan is not working extra well. The NRA is all right as far as it goes. The people (as represented by congress) are turning on terrific heat for what they have been educated to expect—the old inflationary pulmotor.

It is apparent to every Washington observer above the age of two that Mr. Roosevelt must do something to satisfy the popular demand.

The ideal thing would be something which would appease the inflationists and yet avoid the very dangerous commitments which a real inflation would bring.

That is what they have been searching for. That is why you have heard nothing but silence from the White House in response to the walls of the inflation agitators.

DOLLAR This does not mean the dollar devaluation—commodity dollar remedy is losing ground. It is just as certain to come as heaven, hell and taxes.

Mr. Roosevelt has been biding his time on it as a matter of common sense. It is the biggest rabbit he has in his hat. If he pulls it out first, the climax is over. If he can keep the show going with a lot of little rabbits, he will feel more comfortable.

The betting still favors the October 15 date on the supposition that no suitable little rabbits will be found. That is just a good guess now.

COURAGE Administration agents out in the country report the people generally are somewhat bewildered. Most of them do not understand the workings of the NRA, farm plan or other remedies. Their confidence in the president is being maintained, but some doubts are beginning to arise about the immediate future of business.

That should not be. Washington thinks it understands the NRA and farm plan. It is generally not as optimistic about them as the country. Yet there is no doubt in the mind of anyone here that the upward trend is fixed and certain. There will be dips and curves but no downward trend.

To think otherwise is foolish. It is just like betting that Mr. Roosevelt is going to commit a terrific blunder, when you have no reason to expect anything like that.

DUCKING Felix Frankfurter had a secret luncheon meeting of the best legal brains in town recently. He is a brain trustee who has not figured in publicity, but is very influential backstage.

The idea of this meeting was to determine unofficially the legal situation of the NRA. From the start the greatest undercover danger there has been was the possibility that the program might get involved in the courts. Stories have been planted around that the NRA would be a test of its constitutionality. That is merely publicity hokey.

The Frankfurter gathering agreed that the practical thing to do would be to stall off legal interference with the NRA until after December 1 if possible. Then it would not matter much.

That probably will be the policy.

NOTES General Johnson's brother (Alexander) is supposed to have been shipped into a place in the legal division of the commerce department. He may later get an appointment on the shipping board. That makes nearly the whole Johnson family involved in the government service but their combined salaries are not much more than Donald Richberg's.

Tammanyites are grumbling that the administration is back-handing them in the New York mayoralty.

When Mr. Roosevelt got another cold the other day, Wall Streeters kept the long-distance telephones to Washington busy. They figure now that every time the president catches a cold it is a convenient one and that he really is figuring up some new magic.

Labor reports show it is the young men below 45 who are being re-employed. What happens to the man above that age who lost his seniority when he was laid off during the depression and now will be the last to be re-hired?

The state department's mail in opposition to Russian recognition has fallen off recently. Either the opponents of recognition are getting weary or opposition is decreasing.

You Can't Expect Good Eggs If the Contract Contains No Reference to Age

By Robert Quillen

Since you are the kind of person that reads this part of the paper, it is quite probable that you also read news stories concerning general affairs.

But you are mistaken if you assume that everybody does. When community workers began to distribute consumers' pledge cards for the NRA, they found many literate people who never had heard of them.

One man was reluctant to sign a card because he hated to go to France again. Many housewives were suspicious of a trap and hesitated to sign anything that might increase the cost of living.

Many newspaper readers—perhaps the majority of them—read the headlines and skip news stories that promise instruction without entertainment. Thus they remain happily ignorant of matters that seem important to serious students of our times.

Some time ago a jury of ordinary middle-class people voted to acquit a wealthy oil man who was accused of bribery. The man who accepted the bribe had been convicted, and it seemed not unreasonable to expect conviction of the man who gave it.

Yet the jury found him innocent, for it had no reason to believe otherwise. The great lawyers serving as prosecutors had taken it for granted that everybody knew the facts of the case and had neglected the necessary business of introducing evidence to show what the trial was about.

The jury members had read nothing about the case, though the newspapers had been full of it for months, and therefore had no material on which to form an opinion except the scant evidence introduced at the trial.

It is always a mistake to assume that the other fellow knows anything. When misunderstanding of verbal or written agreements makes enemies of former friends, the usual cause is one party's assumption that the other understood something not mentioned.

Innumerable misunderstandings between employer and employee, parent and child, or husband and wife are caused by taking it for granted that something need not be said because it is understood.

Everything needs saying. It is always dangerous to assume that the other party knows anything or understands anything. It is hard to say a thing so clearly that none can misunderstand it. How, then, can you hope for understanding of the thing left unsaid?

$1,000,000,000 Increase in Agricultural Revenue Predicted by Wallace

Editor Constitution: In my article in Sunday's Constitution dealing with inflation and prices of farm products, Secretary Wallace is, through typographical error, quoted as reporting to the president an increase of farm income for 1933 over 1932 of $85,000,000,000. This should have read $1,000,000,000. As is shown by the question I asked in the next paragraph, "And what does an increase of a billion amount to?"

Not so many years ago the farm income reached the gigantic total of twenty-one billion dollars. Last year it was five billion. This year, according to the secretary, it is to be six billion. With an increase of only one billion a year, it will require 15 years to recover our lost ground.

The whole purpose of my letter was to show this. Nothing but higher prices will ever enable farmers to recover this lost ground, or to pay their debts. Nothing but inflation will bring higher prices.

U.S. WORKS CHIEF TO ARRIVE TODAY

TO ARRIVE TODAY

Col. Waites to Tell Georgia Board Speed Needed in Program.

Speed in administration of the huge public works fund will be urged at a general meeting when Col. H. M. Waites, deputy administrator of the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works, with three other officials, will arrive in Georgia today.

They will arrive this afternoon in a naval airplane on the last stop of a 6,000-mile tour to confer with regional advisers, state advisory boards and state engineers.

With Colonel Waites will be H. T. Hunt, general counsel; Lewis P. Mansfield, director of the finance division; and Aubrey E. Taylor, of the public relations staff. The party is completing a tour of New York, Boston, Chicago, Kansas City, Salt Lake City, Fort Worth and Atlanta.

The regional advisers of Georgia and members of the state advisory board and state engineers will be informed of the necessity of sending to Washington projects that meet the approval and requirements of the Public Works Administration and those which will put men to work immediately. The party will leave for Washington Thursday.

Colonel Waites and his associates will be guests of honor at a dinner tonight at the Capital City Club. Other guests at the dinner will include members of the visiting boards, Governor Eugene Talmadge, Congressman Robert Hamspeck, Clark Howell, Major J. S. Cohen, Herbert Porter, Cator Woolford and Ronald Ransom. Mayor James L. Key, Senator Walter F. George and Congressman Homer C. Parker were invited to the dinner.

The party is forced to decline invitation because of previous engagements.

FARM MOVEMENT SEEN ON INFLATION

Leaders in the NRA movement in Atlanta said that a large number of complaints already filed against employers for failure to observe the dates of the Blue Eagle will be taken up first.

General Johnson has said that where the employer is found guilty of failure to observe the agreement, the Blue Eagle will be taken away.

In his instructions to the Atlanta committee General Johnson urged that "all complaints be handled properly." He warned against rumor and gossip and suggested that all complaints be handled in a fair and honest manner.

He said it was presumed that all employers operating under the Blue Eagle were doing their best to comply with all rules and that "where there is a complaint it is because of a lack of understanding rather than a desire to disobey the provisions of the agreement."

All members of the committee were urged to attend the meeting this afternoon.

act, Peek told the delegation that as far as the inflation provision was concerned the "president speaks only for himself."

"Some responsibility," he said, "I invite you here and now to constitute a committee to be composed of the senate and house agriculture committees and other members of congress to sit in with us to show us how we can increase prices under the farm act."

"I pledge you the co-operation of this department to increase prices of farm commodities as fast as it can be done under the law."

Warning that the processing tax was the source of the money with which to pay farmers for plowing up cotton, Peek said:

"If you kill the processing tax you kill the heart of this farm bill. It is the only source of revenue for this purpose."

Congress, he said, in his opinion would not vote to subsidize the agricultural industry out of the general funds of the treasury.

Oscar Johnston, finance director of the farmers' union, said that under the farm act, the department was doing everything it could to increase the price of cotton.

He agreed that immediate inflation would raise the price.

Answering criticism of the slowness of the issuance of checks to farmers for the cotton plowed under, Johnston said more than 125,000 checks have been sent out and that they were being mailed at the rate of 22,000 a day. Soon, he said, the number would be increased to 40,000 daily.

Representative F. L. Bickett, South Carolina, told Peek the adjustment plan had cost the cotton farmers $400,000,000 this year and that they were going to pay them $110,000,000 for a net loss in cost of about $300,000,000.

Talmadge Hints Inflation.

Meanwhile, Linder received a copy of a letter sent to President Roosevelt by Governor Talmadge, of Georgia, expressing opposition to the inflation proposals of the conference.

He asked the senate and house agriculture committees to concentrate on removing the processing tax and urged him to "oppose inflation."

Meanwhile, an assertion came from the quarterly session of the federal reserve advisory council that the banks were being "unfairly and widely criticized on the presumption that they are refusing to issue loans."

Walter W. Smith, president of the First National bank in St. Louis and chairman of the council, said in a statement that banks "should not make loans that they cannot be collected within a reasonable time or are not eligible for rediscount at federal reserve banks."

"It should be remembered that the money to be loaned is the property of depositors," Smith added.

Credit Work Pushed. On the credit expansion program went forward, with the Reconstruction Corporation waiting to see the first results of its offering of $100,000,000 to the banks to help business men work out their financial problems under NRA codes.

The federal reserve board, which has been expanding its open market operations by which it buys government bonds, held several meetings during the day.

One meeting held privately. "We're being meeting all over the place," but declined to indicate whether there were to be further increases in bond buying.

Pittman, called to the White House by Mr. Roosevelt, argued that if silver producers were allowed to have their bullion coined and used by them, it would lift the white metal from 41 cents an ounce to its present American monetary value of $1.29 and restore it to past glories.

To Aid Mitigation. Pittman, as an American delegate to the London economic conference, worked out a tentative plan there to aid the metal, and on his return to the United States rallied his efforts for its redemption.

His recommendation of free coinage as an emergency step followed several days of study by Pittman of the legal questions involved.

COTTON ADVANCES PAST 10-CENT LEVEL

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The cotton market showed spectacular reappearance in the southern markets today as a late wave of general buying gave futures a boost of $1.70 to $1.80 a bale net. Closing prices were slightly more than $8 a bale above the lows of last week.

Immediate delivery middling cotton rose to 10.25 cents a pound in an advance in the spot market of $1.85 per bale.

Inflation fires still provided the main stimulus for the current upward movement, and there was a general belief that a formal administration pronouncement was in the offing.

NEW NRA BOARD TO FORM TODAY

Steps to perch the Blue Eagle of the NRA more securely over Atlanta will be taken at 3 o'clock this afternoon when members of the local committee will gather at the Chamber of Commerce to nominate a group of six persons representing trade, industry, labor and the consumer to serve as a "compliance" board to foster the operation of the recovery program.

Called in accordance with a request from General Hugh Johnson, NRA administrator, the meeting will attempt to form a board along the lines suggested by the administration. After the six members are nominated, the board will name a chairman and the list of seven will be sent to Washington for approval and official appointment.

Leaders in the campaign here said the board will, after approval and appointment, serve as a direct representative of the administration. Complaints will be received, examined and after investigation smoothed out or reported to Washington for action.

The Atlanta board will have no authority to issue orders or to levy fines except on orders from Washington.

He asked the senate and house agriculture committees to concentrate on removing the processing tax and urged him to "oppose inflation."

Meanwhile, an assertion came from the quarterly session of the federal reserve advisory council that the banks were being "unfairly and widely criticized on the presumption that they are refusing to issue loans."

Walter W. Smith, president of the First National bank in St. Louis and chairman of the council, said in a statement that banks "should not make loans that they cannot be collected within a reasonable time or are not eligible for rediscount at federal reserve banks."

"It should be remembered that the money to be loaned is the property of depositors," Smith added.

Credit Work Pushed. On the credit expansion program went forward, with the Reconstruction Corporation waiting to see the first results of its offering of $100,000,000 to the banks to help business men work out their financial problems under NRA codes.

The federal reserve board, which has been expanding its open market operations by which it buys government bonds, held several meetings during the day.

One meeting held privately. "We're being meeting all over the place," but declined to indicate whether there were to be further increases in bond buying.

Pittman, called to the White House by Mr. Roosevelt, argued that if silver producers were allowed to have their bullion coined and used by them, it would lift the white metal from 41 cents an ounce to its present American monetary value of $1.29 and restore it to past glories.

To Aid Mitigation. Pittman, as an American delegate to the London economic conference, worked out a tentative plan there to aid the metal, and on his return to the United States rallied his efforts for its redemption.

His recommendation of free coinage as an emergency step followed several days of study by Pittman of the legal questions involved.

SMALL CO-OPERS FIGHT PHONE OUT

Five Companies Appear Before Board, Testify to Reduced Revenue.

Five of the smaller telephone companies in this state appeared before the Georgia public service commission Tuesday and asked that no reduction in their rates be made at this time.

The companies, the Interstate of West Point, the Mutual of Manchester, the Standard of Clarksville, the Thomason Telephone Company and the Statesboro Telephone Company, came in response to the commission's blanket order to call Georgia companies to show why their rates shouldn't be lowered.

The Cairo, Reynolds, Walker (Lafayette) Telephone, and Hawkinsville Telephone Companies were ordered to appear today.

J. Smith Lanier, president of the Interstate Telephone Company, serving West Point, Ga., and Lanier, Ala., said that in appearing he was not making an admission that the commission had jurisdiction over his company, which operates interstate.

Lanier said "my people fix my rates, and we run on the golden rule principle." He said after a severe drought in 1919, followed by a tornado, his subscribers circulated a petition to increase the company's rates, to keep it going. "It broke me and I was going to give it up, and would have, but for that petition," he said. The petition asked that the rates be raised to $3 for party line residence phones, to $7 for business phones.

Arguing against a rate cut, Lanier said the company, of its own accord, allowed a discount of 50 cents to residence and $2 to business phones, but that the reduction did not help business.

J. L. Mathews, president of the Statesboro Telephone Company, said his company was required to own pay, and that some other employees, to meet decreasing revenues.

CAROLINA LEAF MARTS TO OPEN NEXT MONDAY

Warehousemen Refuse To Reopen Markets; End of 'Holiday' Monday Night.

FLORENCE, S. C., Sept. 19.—(AP) The bright leaf tobacco warehouses of the two Carolinas, closed for the past two weeks by gubernatorial proclamation, will open next Monday morning, it appeared virtually certain today.

The "holiday" proclaimed by Governor Blackwood, of South Carolina, came to an end at midnight last night, but the State Warehousemen's Association agreed not to reopen the markets until those in North Carolina open next Monday.

Although many farmers were reported to be anxious to see a resumption of auction sales, since they have had no income from their chief money crop for the past two weeks, warehousemen said they were "acting in the interest of the farmers" in refusing to open the warehouses today.

They expressed the opinion that to open the South Carolina markets today would be "disastrous," since the government has not yet concluded a projected agreement with the tobacco buyers to provide a minimum average price for the "golden weed."

A hearing on the buyers' agreement is scheduled to be held in Washington Thursday. The whirlwind campaign to get farmers to agree to cut their 1934 and 1935 acreage by has been as much as 30 per cent has been.

A Valuable Addition To Your Library

In compliance with popular demand, another batch of "OUR PRESIDENTS AT A GLANCE" has been printed. This book, printed on fine paper, 9x12 inches, contains a picture and concise biography of each of the United States presidents, including Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It is valuable as a text book or as a reference work, but even more valuable as thrilling, entertaining, reading matter. It should be in every home.

Mail 50 cents, or bring 45 cents for your copy to the circulation department of The Constitution.

More 91 Weather Is Forecast Today

Slightly warmer today, with no probability of rain, with a temperature range from 72 to 91 degrees, was forecast Tuesday by the weather bureau. This will compare with Tuesday's range of 67 to 91 which was only two degrees cooler than Monday.

There is a possibility of showers Friday, the bureau announced, but cooler weather is not likely before Thursday or Friday. Cooler conditions prevail in the Rocky Mountain area, but this is not expected to affect this section before Thursday or Friday.

Successfully wound up during the holiday.

However, in North Carolina, where some of the markets do not ordinarily open until later in the year, the acreage-reduction campaign is still under way, although a majority of the growers have already signed on the dotted line.

PLANS FOR REDUCTION TO BE DISCUSSED TODAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Details of the blue-cured tobacco production control program and the proposed marketing agreement will be discussed today by the tobacco growers' advisory committee with officials of the farm adjustment administration.

Members of the committee, which will meet with J. B. Fulton, chief of the tobacco section, are: M. Lawson, Darlington, S. C.; J. H. Webb, Hahira, Ga.; G. M. Pate, Farmville, N. C.; John T. Lewis, Walnut Cove, N. C.

Farm act officials announced today that over $40,000 had already been paid to tobacco growers who had signed production control contracts. The sum represents approximately half of the money which these producers will receive.

HUNT FOR BURGLAR PUTS NEGRO ESCAPE BACK ON CHANGING

A fortuitous chain of circumstances reached out and engulfed Albert Lee Andrews, negro, before dawn Monday, in a most peculiar fashion. It happened like this:

E. L. Reynolds, asleep upstairs in his home at 2055 N. Peachtree avenue, thought he heard a burglar. He took up a shotgun and stole down the steps. Mrs. Reynolds heard a shot. She thought the burglar had shot her husband and she promptly called the Fulton county police.

Mr. Reynolds had fallen down the stairs and had shot himself in the left hand. Police L. C. Clay and E. W. Wilson arrived on the scene and scouted about the house. They found a pair of Mr. Reynolds' trousers from which $22 had been removed. Finding nothing else, they left.

It was then that Albert Lee Andrews came into the picture. The policemen passed him on their way in, went back and asked him questions. He had not been in the Reynolds' house, but he had been sent up from Fulton county for 10 years for the Murray county chain gang at Chatsworth, Ga., and escaped Saturday morning.

Today Andrews awaits a deputy from Murray county, who says Andrews is a painful wound in his hand.

MRS. J. I. JAMES, 80, PASSES AT HOME HERE

Mrs. J. I. James, 80 years of age, who had resided in Atlanta about 20 years, died at about midnight Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Margaret J. Rhodes, 93 Peachtree place, N. E. Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Spring Hill. Dr. Witherspoon Dodge and the Rev. A. B. Couch will officiate. El. M. Patterson & Son, who will have charge of the services, will announce the place of interment.

Mrs. James was born in Almond, N. Y., and resided there and in Marion, Iowa. When her husband died she moved to Atlanta to be with her daughter. In addition to Mrs. Rhodes, she is survived by another daughter, Mrs. C. H. Oxley; a son, W. H. James, of Kansas City, Mo.; a granddaughter, Miss Betty James, and a grandson, J. W. James.

DAPPER YOUTH SOUGHT IN TENNESSEE DEATH

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19.—(AP)—A dapper youth of about 25 was sought in a score of southern cities today in connection with the brutal slaying and robbery of Sheffield Clark, 61-year-old Nashville, Tenn., business executive, whose battered body was found in a room of one of the city's large hotels last night.

Clark had been beaten over the head and choked to death, apparently by a visitor who remained in the room for some time before the attack. The coroner said Clark was slain probably Sunday night, although the body, carefully placed under sheets on the bed, was not discovered until 24 hours later. His effects had been rifled and a considerable sum of money he was known to have carried in his pockets was missing.

Late Sunday night a snappily dressed young man, dark complexioned and of medium height, appeared at the hotel parking lot, posed as Clark's son, presented an auto club card and took possession of Clark's car.

DOUBLE POWER LINES TO LINK TVA DAMS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 19.—(AP)—City officials were told today by engineers of the Tennessee Valley Authority that plans are under way for the construction of a double transmission line between Norris dam in Tennessee and Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals.

One line would take an almost direct route between the two dams and the other would follow the course of the Tennessee river, making it possible to connect all the proposed dams on the river.

Councilman W. N. Smithson said Lieutenant Evans, authority engineer, explained that two lines would insure against service interruptions in case either line was broken by a storm.

SENATOR FLETCHER IS MUCH IMPROVED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Senator Fletcher, of Florida, was described by his family today as recovering rapidly from bruises and slight cuts on the forehead and chin suffered yesterday when his automobile and a truck collided.

The senator remained in bed today, but members of his family said he probably would be out in a few days.

NORTH CAROLINA YOUTH TO STUDY IN GERMANY

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Ivey Allen Jr., of Oxford, N. C., has been awarded a fellowship for study in Germany, the Institute of International Education announced here today. Allen attended Duke University, specializing in chemistry, the subject he will study in Germany during the scholastic year 1933-34.

In Georgia's Fields and Streams

By H. A. CARTER

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Sept. 19.—In closing this first brief chapter of the wild life at Brunswick, after intensive work has brought on one of those rare revolts against the exacting duties of field zoology, let me mention a roadside shrine that I love.

Old and gnarled, draped with flowing streams of moss, facing the marshes, stands the Lanier oak. Under this tree the poet musician gave form to the marshes of Glynn that carries their picture to every one.

May I never profane the name of Lanier with my words; let me rather in silence feel his presence. Poet and marsh are one; inseparable entities they, and spirits both.

Jaded with watching and recording the ever present and ever changing minutiae of organic beings, so accustomed to accuracy of measurement that my heart cried out for release and freedom, I saw the oak. A hero was white against the marsh grass, standing guard it seemed over the hallowed spot that served Lanier so well. A metamorphosis began, my vision broadened, and emotion gained the mastery of reason. In the presence of the enduring marsh, all my work seemed of no value. I became an atom of dust, vanishing into the forgetting trail of time. Problems were forgotten, and I saw the marshes as a part of a vast cosmic plan.

Tomorrow I know that I can turn again to my work, refreshed and able to forge ahead. I know that peaceful sleep will be mine tonight. I have gained a perspective, and have found myself again, and I know that when I come to the end of a long search, here will I return to find my place in the scheme of things again.

"Affable live oak, leaning low, thus—with your favor—soft, with a reverent hand, (Not lightly touching your person, Lord of the land!) Bending your beauty aside, with a step I stand On the firm packed sand, Free, By a world of marsh that borders a world of sea."

LAMONT'S FORMER JOB MAY BE ABOLISHED

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The American says the $100,000-a-year presidency of the American Iron and Steel Institute is expected to be abolished tomorrow, when the directors meet to reorganize after the resignation of Robert P. Lamont.

Lamont resigned last week, saying there was no indication how far governmental connection with industry would go.

The executive powers formerly vested in the president, the American says, probably will be conferred on an executive secretary.

Charles M. Schwab is chairman of the institute, and there have been reports he might succeed Lamont.

BERLIN PRIMA DONNA MARRIES LITHUANIAN

BERLIN, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Mafalda Salviati, famous in Europe as the prima donna of the Berlin opera, today married Jurgis Saulys, the Lithuanian minister to Berlin. The ceremony took place at the Charlottenburg registry office. She was a pupil of Jean De Reszke, and sang with Caruso.

VIDAL TO TAKE CHARGE OF U. S. AERONAUTICS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Eugene L. Vidal, who for more than 13 years has flown the army's airplanes and those of commercial aviation companies, was designated today to take charge of the reorganized aeronautics branch of the commerce department.

Assisting him will be Major J. Carroll Cone, in charge of the air regulation division, and Rex Martin, at the head of the air navigation. Since June, Martin has been serving as assistant director of aeronautics in charge of airways.

$500 Reward Posted For Escaped Trusty

Rewards totaling $500 have been offered for the arrest of Mack James, negro, escaped Banks county trusty, who is being sought for the assault and murder of a young white woman near Homer last Wednesday.

James was serving his second long sentence for assault at the time of the latest crime. He was first convicted in Jones county in 1922 and sentenced to serve 17 years, being paroled by Governor Richard B. Russell Jr., in December, 1931, on recommendation of the prison commission.

He was arrested again for assault at Macon in 1932 and sentenced to serve 20 years and assigned to the Banks county gang, where he was made a trusty several months ago.

The $500 reward is being offered by Banks county and the state, the county commission and the governor having posted $250 each.

James is described as being between 40 and 45 years of age, about five feet, ten inches tall, and weighing 150 pounds. He has a rough face, with wrinkles on both the face and forehead. His lips and nose are thick. The end of his little finger on the left hand also shows that it has been injured.

Electric Tongue Demonstrated, Shows 'Kick' in Apple or Blonde

By H. ALLEN SMITH.
NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(UP)—An electric tongue, which can determine the amount of kick in an apple, a watermelon or a blonde was demonstrated today at Madison Square Garden, where the national electrical exposition is to open tomorrow.

"We have the electric eye," explained Dr. O. H. Caldwell, famous authority on electronics, "and we have the electric ear. Now we have the electric tongue."

He held in his hand a small black meter, about half the size of a speedometer. From the rear of the meter projected two long-pointed prongs. Dr. Caldwell stuck the prongs into an apple. The meter registered 60. He stuck it into an orange. The needle jumped to 75. A lemon registered 90. Then he called upon Miss Rosemary Lane, a singer, and a candidate for the title of queen of the exposition.

"Stick out your tongue, please," said Dr. Caldwell. Miss Lane stuck out her tongue. The instrument was applied to it. The needle leaped like a startled fawn, hit the top and appeared to be trying to get farther. Miss Lane obviously needed to retard her spark.

The experiment was conducted during a preview of the exposition, at which all the girls who are seeking to become queen of the show were present. Howard Chandler Christy, the artist, arrived with his three chins and a girl with boxed shoulders. He was taken immediately to a new device called the telautograph.

This is an electric pencil with which President Roosevelt, in Washington, will open the show. As the president writes, a spot of green fire will appear on a large glass disk, following the movement of his pencil. The words fade away in about 20 seconds, so that the writer can start over again on a clean sheet once he reaches the bottom of the page.

FLORIDAN SENTENCED FOR THEFT OF AUTO

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Judge Eugene J. Holland, of traffic court, after hearing the story of John B. Lannham, 28, of Jacksonville, Fla., sentenced him to serve six months in the house of correction for larceny, to pay $100 and serve 10 days additional for driving while intoxicated, and to pay $25 and costs for operating an automobile without the owner's consent.

"If this light were kept on for a solid year," he said, "it would really only be burning five minutes and 15 seconds."

At this point 8.2 and cheese sandwiches were served.

Some time was spent, meanwhile, in demonstrating an electronic piano which has dials above the keyboard, and which can be made to sound like any known kind of musical instrument, including the oboe, the bassoon, the flageolet and cymbals.

Following this a new kind of light was put on exhibit. This light fluctuates, and is of great importance to the automobile industry, according to the young man who did the demonstration.

They wanted Christy to draw a picture of Miss Lane on the thing. He tried it, but he is left-handed and, anyway, he would no more than get the nose done and start to work on the ear when the nose would disappear. He is a determined sort of fellow, and sat for the better part of an hour, muttering oaths as necks faded from view before he could get boyish bows on top of heads.

He is a determined sort of fellow, and sat for the better part of an hour, muttering oaths as necks faded from view before he could get boyish bows on top of heads.

It's A WISE GIRL— who knows her own weight

Straight from Hollywood come the good news that the wise way to keep your weight down is to eat plenty of salads—if they are made the right way. The scales can't give you any good news if you let fattening vegetable oils creep into your salad dressing. The secret, says Hollywood, is NUJOL FOR USE ON SALADS.

"LADY FOR A DAY" CONTEST WINNERS ARE ANNOUNCED

Miss Margaret Fullilove, of 131 Maxwell street, Decatur, is the winner of first prize of $5 in the contest conducted by the Rialto theater and The Constitution last week in connection with the showing of "Lady for a Day," the fascinating human story of the screen which is the feature attraction at that theater this week.

The contest required the filling in of a sentence which one of the characters was saying in pictures published in this paper three days last week. While none of the contestants got the sentences exactly right, a number were close. Miss Fullilove coming nearest.

Second prize, $3, was won by Newby Ethridge, of Decatur, Ga., and third prize of $2 went to Miss Ethel Smith, of 978 West Peachtree street.

In addition many consolation prizes of two passes each to see "Lady for a Day" were mailed to other contestants. All prizes will be in the mails no later than this morning.

TENN. COUNTY BOOKS DISCLOSE SHORTAGE

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Sept. 19. (AP)—Auditors engaged in auditing Washington county's books for the period of September 1, 1931, to July 31, 1933, today reported to the county auditing committee a shortage of $86,464 in the accounts of Trustee Frank Hays.

Hays, who has served as trustee for ten years, denied a shortage and asked the auditors to refrain from making any further statement until the report is formally presented to the county court in Jonesboro October 2.

Peruchi Production Smoothly Presented

The Peruchi Players at the Erlanger theater are presenting this week, "Take My Advice," not only a cleverly written comedy, but the most finished performance of any they have given in a number of weeks. The entire play moves with a professional finesse that is refreshing and delightful. With a stage setting that is perfect in a quiet, dignified sort of way, the entire production is one that Atlanta may well boast about. Though the city's only stage attraction, the Peruchi Players have brought a new civic boost to Atlanta.

There will be two performances of "Take My Advice," today, a bargain price matinee at 2:15 and the regular night show at 8:15 o'clock. Prices this week are back to the old low scale, which Mr. Peruchi has found more advantageous, both for the patrons and for the theater itself.

The Erlanger orchestra, with Walter Sheats conducting, and Henry Parker giving vocal solos, entertainers at each performance, before the opening curtain and between acts. There are many excellent seats yet available at the boxoffice for all remaining performances this week, though the enthusiastic comment of the Monday and Tuesday audiences promises large crowds every show.

LEAGUE AFFILIATION IS DENIED BY HULL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—Secretary Hull today classified press reports from Geneva that this government was contemplating a closer political affiliation with the League of Nations as "erroneous and misleading."

In a formal statement the secretary announced at the same time that under a previous arrangement for international action in suppressing the opium traffic the United States would take part in a League meeting for choosing an opium commission.

FRENCH ARMS PLANS OUTLINED TO DAVIS

U. S. Ambassador-at-Large Spends Hour With French Foreign Minister.

PARIS, Sept. 19. (AP)—Joseph Paul-Boncour, French foreign minister, today outlined France's new disarmament plan to Norman H. Davis, American ambassador-at-large, at a lengthy talk at the Quai D'Orsay.

Thereafter the American representative outlined the French scheme for control of armaments, with an accompanying postponement of disarmament for five years, to the Washington government.

Mr. Davis, accompanied by Allan Dulles, member of the American disarmament delegation, and Hugh Wilson, American minister to Switzerland, spent an hour with the French foreign minister. He then presented to Premier Daladier President Roosevelt's oral message in which the American chief executive was understood to have urged the necessity of disarmament.

It was understood Mr. Davis has indicated that America, while agreeable to the principle of control, was determined to abstain from sanctions. The French have been represented as anxious to provide for sanctions against any nation violating the disarmament agreement.

Mr. Paul-Boncour expressed satisfaction with his talk, and "particularly the evidence of President Roosevelt's continued interest in disarmament."

Mr. Davis will spend tomorrow in conference with Washington officials. Then he expects to pay a second visit to the French minister after the British cabinet replies whether it is willing to accept overtures concerning a common disarmament front made to Captain Anthony Eden, British foreign office undersecretary, yesterday.

STAFF OF HOSPITAL HEARS DISCUSSION OF ENCEPHALITIS

Georgia Baptist hospital staff physicians resumed their monthly staff meetings Tuesday night. About 150 physicians and guests met for dinner in the Nurses' home at 6:30 o'clock and afterward heard three widely known physicians discuss medical subjects.

In a paper on encephalitis, or sleeping sickness, the disease which has claimed a number of lives in St. Louis and other cities recently, Dr. Newdigate M. Owensby said that a cure for the disease had not been found. He expressed the opinion that the disease is one of the involvements of influenza and said that while a cure was lacking a preventive had been established.

Papers also were presented by Dr. Olin S. Ofor and Dr. J. G. Blacklock, Dr. C. C. Aven, secretary of the Georgia Baptist hospital staff, and W. D. Barker, superintendent of the hospital, attended the meeting.

Along Came YOUTH

Youth no longer belongs only to the young. That joyous news is brought by this up-and-coming age to the woman who operates her home on the 1933 plan.

There was a time when youth was but a brief and brilliant interlude between toddling childhood and the honeymoon. Now, youth stays awhile. It lingers long past middle age—and never completely deserts the woman who lets electric service take the work out of housework.

Women like this are young and staying young, no matter what their age in years. They are letting electric energy save their energy, save their strength for better things. Mothers are matching sparkling youth with their children—sharing joyously in pleasures once denied them—joining in new activities—filling with laughter and contentment the hours once surrendered to fatigue.

Electric service has created a brand new environment for all of us, as different from that of a generation ago as night is from day. Of all its benefits, womankind has reaped the major share—in increased years of youth!

"Life Begins at Forty" is the inspiring title of a new book by Walter B. Pitkin. That the world seems to agree is proven by the fact that his work ranks high among best sellers. "Gray Hair 'Smart' for the Modern Woman," says a newspaper headline, and we take it for granted.

Only a few years ago, no man would have dared proclaim that people really begin to live at forty; women wept when their first gray hairs appeared. Now the world has learned to laugh at moss-grown milestones.

Drudgery, crushing out youth, began to vanish as woman's penalty for her sex when the electric light was first introduced into the home. It marked the beginning of woman's real emancipation when the flick of a switch brought instant light, when and where she wanted it, sealing the doom of the daily task of cleaning and filling long rows of greasy, smelly oil lamps, polishing soot from their chimneys.

That was a beginning, nothing more. Women still trudged from the well or the pump or the spring, with heavy buckets of water. Women still split kindling, chopped and carried wood, suffered the blistering tortures of old-fashioned cook stoves. Women still had to depend entirely on the dusty, back-breaking broom to keep dirt from their floors.

Now—for thousands of Georgia women—those days are definitely ended. Electric service has shown them new and easier ways of doing things; made simple and short scores of tasks that once kept women busy and tired from early dawn to after night.

Other Georgia women are just beginning to catch this new vision. Opportunity came to them later, because only within the past few years, in the smaller communities, has electric service been put at their command. Electric water pumps, water heaters, vacuum cleaners, refrigerators, ranges and many other devices are now bringing them the same conveniences long enjoyed by their sisters in the cities.

They are now finding new freedom, new youth; they have cast forever aside the old tasks that once made women old before their time.

There's youth aplenty in the old world yet. Let electric service help you get your share. . . . Georgia Power Company—A Citizen Wherever We Serve.

Miss Thompson Weds Mr. Newton At Afternoon Ceremony at Home

Miss Mary Glover Thompson became the bride of Charles Ernest Newton Jr., of Providence, R. I., formerly of Atlanta and Griffin, Ga., at an impressive afternoon ceremony yesterday at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Meriwether Thompson, on Seminole avenue. The quiet ceremony was performed by Dr. Wade H. Boggs, pastor of the Druid Hills Presbyterian church, in the presence of a small gathering of relatives and very close friends.

Palms and other foliage plants were effectively backed before the fireplace in the living room, with four seven-branched candelabra placed in the foreground holding lighted white tapers, which cast a soft glow on the glossy dark foliage. Palms were also backed before the piano at one side of the room and throughout the remainder of the lower floor pastel shaded flowers were artistically arranged.

Presiding the ceremony Miss Sara Croft Smith, pianist; Mrs. Louise Smith Green, violinist, and John Hoffman, vocalist, gave a program of appropriate nuptial music. Mr. Hoffman sang "Still as the Night" and "I Love You Truly." Other selections included "Intermezzo" by Sallit and "Nocturne in F. Sharp Major" by Chopin as piano solos; for violin and piano the wedding processional from Wagner's "Lohengrin" and the recessional by Mendelssohn. During the ceremony they played Godowsky's "Alto."

Miss Margaret Towndley, who acted as maid of honor and only attendant of the bride, was dressed in a green gown with two soft loops of the material marking the high neckline and a sash tied in the back. An interesting note was added by the sleeves which were full at the top and fitted at the wrist. She wore a white type hat of bronze green, trimmed with a single feather at the back and her shoulder spray was of tallies.

roses and valley lilies. Will Hill Newton, of Griffin, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The lovely bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Thomas Meriwether Thompson, wore a smart traveling ensemble. The jungle brown faille employed in the suit offset to particular advantage the bride's striking brunet coloring. The high cowl neckline featured an intricate tie on one shoulder and the waist was fashioned on diagonal lines. A three-quarter length swag coat of the same material completed the suit. She wore a small hat of brown felt, trimmed in the center front by a bow of the felt and finished by a brief nose veil. Her accessories were of brown suede and she wore an exquisite spray of gardenias pinned to her left shoulder.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Thompson entertained the wedding guests at a reception. Mrs. Thompson was dressed in evergreen chiffon cut on straight lines with a soft girle marking the waistline. She wore a shoulder bouquet of pastel-tinted roses. Mrs. Charles E. Newton Sr., of Griffin, mother of the bridegroom, wore black tulle, trimmed with cream-colored lace and offset by her shoulder a spray of bright cliff roses. Assisting in entertaining the guests were Misses Mary McCord, Anita Huber, Margaret Newton, of Griffin, and Mrs. J. G. McDonald, of the bride's home. Among the out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Newton Sr., parents of the bridegroom; Will Hill Newton II, Miss Margaret Newton, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Crouch, all of Griffin; Charles Thompson, of Chattanooga, Tenn., brother of the bride; Miss Kate Thompson, of Madison, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Tribble, of Adairsville.

Mr. Newton and his bride left for a motor trip, after which they will go to Providence, R. I., for residence. Mr. Newton is connected with the Coca-Cola Company in Providence.

Mrs. Archie Haley was hostess at a children's party Saturday afternoon at her home on West Peachtree, complimenting her little son, John Archie Haley, on his sixth birthday. The little guests enjoyed games on the lawn, and were given party-colored favors and balloons. Refreshments were served in the dining room, a color note of pink and white being carried out in detail. The lace-covered table had as its central decoration the beautiful birthday cake. Mrs. Haley was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. Cordelia Kinnelbrow and her sister, Mrs. John Transon. The guest list included 25 little friends of the honor guest.

The Capitol View Women's Club met Thursday in the clubroom. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. L. L. O'Neal. Reports of various committees were read. A large portion of the membership was present. At the close the members viewed the beautiful flowers, many taking the white, blue and red ribbons and the sweepstakes being won by Mrs. Simpson.

The Delphian Society, Beta chapter, held its bi-monthly meeting Wednesday at the High Museum of Art. Mrs. C. L. Douglas, president, presided. This first program of the season was an introduction to the study of drama. Drama as a subject for study and development, the origin and nature of Greek tragedy, the three great names of Greek tragedy, Aeschylus, Sophocles and Euripides, and the intricacies of play production in Greece, were pertinent subjects of discussion. The close connection between drama and opera, especially since the time of Richard Wagner, was brought out in a discussion of the similarities between Greek tragedy and modern opera. Mrs. Stephen May, chairman, was assisted in presenting the program by Mesdames Carter Harrison, C. L. Douglas, George A. Spracklin, W. S. Johns, Lawton Kirkland and E. R. Epperson. Mrs. Hoke

Miss Caroline Crumley Is Elected President Of 1933-34 Debutante Club at Initial Meeting

The foursome of attractive belles pictured above include the officers of the 1933-34 Debutante Club elected at the organization meeting held yesterday at the Piedmont Driving Club, and are, left to right, Miss Caroline Crumley, president; Miss Suzanne Memminger, vice president; Miss Miriam Fleming, secretary; and Miss Judy King, treasurer. Staff photo by J. T. Holloway.

Atlanta's autumn social season was formally launched yesterday with the organization of the 1933-34 Debutante Club and the election of Miss Caroline Crumley as president. Other officers named to serve with Miss Crumley were Miss Suzanne Memminger, vice president; Miss Miriam Fleming, secretary; and Miss Judy King, treasurer.

The meeting was held at the Piedmont Driving Club with Mrs. William Randle Barnett, of Jacksonville, Fla., president of last winter's Debutante Club, presiding. Miss Fort Scott Meador, Miss Charlotte King and Miss May Latimer, also officers of the 1932-1933 Debutante Club, assisted in the organization of the new club and the voting.

The first official meeting of the club has been called for Tuesday, September 26, and will be held at 3 o'clock at the Piedmont Driving Club. At this meeting plans will be made for the Halloween ball at the Piedmont Driving Club, at which time the season's debutantes will be formally presented to society as a group.

Miss Crumley is the lovely young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Crumley, of 17 Inman circle. She attended school at Washington Seminary and since her graduation she has traveled extensively in this country and abroad. She spent the summer of 1932 touring the cultural centers of Europe and during the summer just past she traveled in California and at the west coast resorts. Of the brunet type of beauty, she has been a popular and admired figure among society's youngful contingent. Her selection to guide the destiny of the Debutante Club bespeaks her qualities of leadership and her popularity among her contemporaries.

Among the young belles present who were enrolled as members of the organization were Misses Florence and Mary Bryan, Lundy Sharp, Kate Jenkins, Judy King, Harriet Grant, Miriam Fleming, Patsy Thayer, Barbara Ransom, Betty Schroder, Betty Gage, Caroline Crumley, Suzanne Memminger, Joel McClatchey, Mary and Margaret Sage, Maibelle Dickey, Maxine Land, Katherine Brooks, Frances Morton, Ruth Wright, Aurelia Speer, Elizabeth Hopkins, Carroll Hopkins, Laura Smith, Isabelle Couper, Harriet Lee and Betty Cole, of Cartersville.

When Worlds Collide

By EDWIN BALMER & PHILIP WYLIE

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:

Two planets, Brown Alpha and Brown Beta, torn away from another sun, are approaching the earth. The world's most distinguished scientists are working with Dr. Cole Henderson, of New York, as members of the League of the Last Days. Their discovery of the planets is confirmed by photographs taken in South Africa by Professor Henderson, which are sent by plane by David Henderson to Henderson and his daughter, Eve, his assistant. Eve and Tony Drake are deeply in love but her father has forbidden them to marry and the surface of the planet is so hot that a metal or alloy which will withstand the heat and pressure of atomic energy to be used in propelling the space ship he is building in Michigan is chosen to transfer a selected group to Brown Beta when it is out. Northern Michigan is chosen because there the earthquakes that accompany the 700-foot rift caused by the first approach of the Brown Beta will do a minimum of damage. On their second approach, Brown Alpha will collide with the earth. The idea sweeps back to the Appalachians on the east and to the mountains on the Pacific side, and quakes change the entire surface of the earth. The Washington government has moved as many millions as possible to the Mississippi valley from the Pacific coast and the disturbances are terrific. Quakes, gases, volcanic dust, cold, heat, then gases afflict the thousands men and women in Henderson's cantonment for 48 hours. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT XXV.

"Like God leading the children of Israel, Pittsburgh remains in my memory as a pillar of cloud by day and of fire by night. As we approached the city, we saw smoke arising against the sky. Vanderbilt damped the motors and we dropped to ward the Monongahela river, which was full to the brim of the levees and threatened to inundate the city. Earthquakes had half wrecked its structures. They lay broken and battered on 'The Point' which lies between the two rivers. Smoke and steam emerged from a rent in Mt. Washington. The bridges were all down. 'Our ship came to rest, and we taxied cautiously toward one of the submerged bridges. I threw a rope over one of the girders, and we made fast. We went ashore by way of the taut rope.

"It was easy to perceive the cause of the smoke. A large area of what remained of Pittsburgh, was in flames and to our ears came clearly the din of battle. Rifles cracked incessantly; machine guns clattered; and occasionally we heard the cough of a hand grenade.

"It was not wise to proceed farther. Nevertheless, I insisted on going forward while my companions returned to guard our precious ship. I had not invaded the city deeply before bullets buzzed overhead. I took cover. Not far away, in a street that was a shambles, I saw men moving. They carried rifles which they fired frequently; and they wore the tattered remnants of the uniform of the national guard.

"A squad of these men retreated toward me, and as they did so, I perceived their enemy. Far down the street a mass of people surged over the barricade-like ruins of a building. They were terrible to see, even at that distance. Half naked, screaming, armed with every tool that might be used as a weapon—a mob of the most desperate sort. The retreating squad stopped, took aim and several of the approaching savages fell. In their united voices I detected the tones of women.

"As the guardsmen reached my vicinity, one of them clapped his hand to his arm and staggered away from his fellows to shelter. The squad was at that instant reinforced by a number of soldiers who carried a machine gun. The mob was temporarily checked by its clatter.

"I made my way to the wounded man, and he gratefully accepted the ministrations I could offer from the small kit I carried in my pocket. His right arm had been pierced. It was from him that I was able to learn the story of Pittsburgh.

"The man was George Schultz, a national guardsman. Henderson continued, reading from Milot's diary. 'He said the mills at Pittsburgh had been working to the last moment. The government deemed that the great steel city was in no danger from the ideas, and had used it for manufacturing the last days. In many parts of the city area the effect of the earthquakes was rendered roughly more frightful by the collapse of the honeycomb of mine galleries underlying the surface. Blocks of buildings literally dropped out of sight in some places.

"After the quake, what was left of the administrative powers immediately organized the remnants of the police and national guard. Food ran low; medical supplies gave out; the populace rebelled.

"Three days before our arrival, a mob had armed itself and attempted to take over the distribution of the remaining food and supplies. I had appeared on the scene apparently after the mob and the forces of law and order had been fighting for three days; and it was not necessary for Schultz to explain to me that in a very short time the national guardsmen and police would be routed; their numbers were vastly inferior; their ammunition was being exhausted, and organized warfare was out of the question in that madman's terrain.

"I abandoned Schultz to his comrades and made my way back to the river. We lost not time in taking off."

Again Henderson looked up from the notebook.

"Mr. James' diary next describes a horrendous flight across the Appalachians and their arrival at Washington."

DAVIS ST. SCHOOL TO GET MAGNOLIA FROM WORMSLOE

When the pupils of Davis Street school plant the forest they long have planned, Lillian Harmon will set out a tree from the colonial home of Noble Jones, who was the first man in the colony that established Georgia to settle at Savannah.

Several days ago Lillian wrote to the chamber of commerce at Savannah and asked whether she might have a tree, Wymberly de Renne, owner of the Jones home and a lineal descendant of its founder.

tail was reported approaching the zone from Ciego de Avila.

Sources close to the government said the rebel leader, who was in Havana recently, had won the confidence of President Grau and subsequently had been commissioned to go into the interior and attempt to pacify striking workers.

Meanwhile the city hall at Moron was reported seized by students and soldiers who disarmed the police there after firing only one shot. The students were said to have joined the Blas Hernandez forces.

Secretary of Interior Gutierrez estimated the rebels as numbering 100 men and predicted they would be unable to reach the hills before capture. Other reports direct from Moron said Blas Hernandez had 300 followers.

STUDIES MEMORANDA

The president in the meantime studied five memoranda from opposition political groups, each of which, it was reliably understood, demanded his resignation. There was no indication of when he would answer the demands publicly, even if he does so at all.

Labor troubles in various sections of the island continued serious, with no evidence of tranquillity in the disturbed areas.

Two thousand employees of the Bethlehem iron mines at Daiquiri, near Santiago, were on strike and no one was permitted to enter or leave the property. A number of Americans were reported virtual prisoners. Food supplies were running short.

Approximately 50 Americans, mostly women and children, were concentrated at Renfe, across the bay from Santiago.

Oriento province appeared to be the sore spot in the labor situation, with 15 sugar mills reported in the hands of workers. Disturbances were reported at Banes and Pregon, where workers of the United Fruit Company were on strike.

Three agitators were arrested by police at Manzanillo and a girl was injured when a demonstration was broken up there.

WASHINGTON IS PREPARED FOR INSTANTANEOUS ACTION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—An apparently rising tide of internal turmoil to the east of Havana, as pictured here by Cuban consular advisers, caused lights to be kept burning tonight within the state department as officials prepared for instant action if needed.

Secretary Hull appeared grave as he unfolded to newspapermen a series of excerpts from consular reports, telling of strikes, acts of violence, discord, tension and overthrow of local governments in the central and eastern sections of the island.

bling block in agreement negotiations,

Frank Buchanan, manager of the confederation, says Monday night he announced that two of the largest milk distributors in Atlanta had refused to buy milk from his organization when it declined to deliver its surplus milk to them.

SAYS PRICE UNSATISFACTORY

Buchanan said the price of approximately 7 cents a gallon for such milk was unsatisfactory to the producers in his organization, and that they had decided to utilize all of their own surplus in a milk plant established in Griffin.

Robert H. Hardin in Capital.

Mr. Roberts and H. H. Hardin, of Forsyth, vice president of the confederation, will be among those who will have a final conference with Secretary Wallace.

The $20,000,000 estimate regarding the sale of milk is $5,000,000 more than the value of the 1932 cotton crop, Bridges, who made the estimate, said. In actual figures he said the milk agreement should bring in to Georgia farmers $30,474,150.

The agreement also, he said, will increase the price of milk on an average of only one cent per quart, or four cents per gallon, while the farmer will receive more than 10 cents more per gallon. The primary object of the agreement, he said, is to increase the income of the dairy farmer, and to fix a fair price for the distributor.

Reservations to Come Up.

● RIGHT—A STEADY CAMEL SMOKER FOR YEARS, Richard says, "Camels are milder. They never interfere with my nervous control, no matter how much I smoke."

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

In discussing smoking and shooting, Virgil Richard says:

"People often ask me if a professional sharpshooter can smoke as much as he wants. I've been enjoying cigarettes for years, without difficulty in keeping my nerves in shape for making record scores in tournament shooting events. That's because I have long been a Camel smoker.

I have experimented with all the popular brands, and I find Camels are better for steady smoking. They're a much milder cigarette, and they never interfere with my nervous control, no matter how much I smoke."

Switch to Camels. You'll like the remarkable mildness... the fine, rich flavor of Camel's costlier tobaccos. You'll have satisfying proof that Camels do not interfere with healthy nerves.
